12-Day Pennsy Strike Comes To End

Some Trains Due To Roll By Tuesday

Quill, TWU's Head, Expresses 'Delight' At New Agreement

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Negotiators today hammered out settlement ending the 12-day-old strike that had stopped the entire Pennsylvania Railroad for the first time in 114 years.

Leaders of the 20,000 strikers, members of two nonoperating unions, said they were delighted with the agreement reached after 15 hours of almost continuous peace talks. The settlement ended a dispute over work rules and job security that began in mid-1957. Wages were not an issue.

Six hours after the agreement both the Transport Workers Union and System Federation announced that their locals had ratified it.

PRR spokesman also expressed satisfaction.

No trains will operate today on America's biggest railroad that connects 10,000 miles of track in 13 states and the District of Columbia.

The Pennsy said service "will be partially restored" by Tuesday morning, emphasizing that restoration must proceed "in progressive steps to assure complete safety and reliability of operation."

The two unions involved are the Transport Workers, representing 15,000, and the System Federation, with 5,000. Their members are car inspectors, oilers, pipefitters, car cleaners, steamfitters and laborers.

Primarily, they are responsible for the safety of equipment, and for maintenace of PRR property. Many TWU members, principally in the huge Pennsy shops at Altoona, Pa., build and repair freight cars.

Prime movers in the eventual agreement were Philadelphia's Mayor Richardson Dilworth and Francis O'Neill Jr., chairman of the Federal (Railway) Mediation Board.

O'Neill brought both sides together before noon Sunday and kept them bargaining continuously, except for lunch and dinner, until the settlement shortly before 3 a.m.

Michael J. Quill, fiery TWU president who had blamed the PRR for the negotiations impasse, said he was "delighted with the agreement. He said it was reached "by real genuine collective bargaining."

He said the unions won protection against the Pennsy contracting to outside firms work that PRR employes can do themselves, a severance pay plan for protection of railroad workers, protection for mechanics helpers against abolition of their jobs, and a rule that defines in specific terms an employe's job.

In addition, Quill said, the railroad agreed to drop law suits totalling $14 million against the union.

The agreement totals more than 30 points, all touching on job security and work rules.

It placed the total revenue lost at about $2.5 million each day—or about $30 million altogether.

However, it didn't have much of a payroll — having furloughed 52,000 workers as soon as the strike began one minute past midnight Sept. 1.

Rail Workers Alerted For Call Back To Jobs

Area railroad men were being alerted to remain on standby for call to work as the systemwide Pennsylvania Railroad strike ended this morning.

A few supervisory personnel were back on the job at Conway and Wellsville by mid-morning, telephoning crews that they should be ready to go on short notice.

Those back on the job said they have not received word from the company that the strike is officially over.

No trains are expected to move over area lines until late tonight and possibly Tuesday. Officials said it will take several days for operations to return to normal. The strike idled about 175 men working out of the Wellsville yards and over 2,000 at Conway.

Crashes Hurt Scooter Rider And Bicyclist

City's Officers List 6 Other Accidents During Weekend

A young motor scooter operator and a youthful bicyclist were injured in separate mishaps Saturday, two of eight traffic accidents reported over the weekend, police said.

Stanley Curtis Rice, 16, son of Sherman Rice, 511 Azalea Ave., is in "good" condition today at City Hospital with injuries suffered Saturday afternoon when his motor scooter hit a 1960 sedan operated by John J. Davis, 45, of Warren at W. 9th St. and Starkey Ln.

Davis told police he was headed west on W. 9th St. and was making a left turn into the lane when the right rear of his auto was hit by the motor scooter. Rice told police he was traveling east on W. 9th St. and blew his horn but was unable to stop in time to avoid the crash.

James Jackson, 10, son of Charles L. Jackson, 941 Orchard Grove Ave., was treated at the hospital earlier Saturday afternoon for injuries to the left hand and left leg received when his bike hit the right rear of a 1960 auto operated by William Wimmer, 32, of 919 McKinnon Ave., at Jennings and McKinnon Aves.

The boy told police he was headed south on Jennings Ave. and was looking for another boy when his foot slipped off the pedal and he was unable to stop.

Wimmer said two boys, whom he believed to be racing, came through the stop sign. He said he swerved to the left to avoid the collision, but the Jackson youngster's bike hit his car.

Sullivan Bosco, 54, of Anderson Blvd. was fined $10 and costs today in Municipal Court on a charge of failing to yield the right-of-way following a mishap early Sunday afternoon at Jackson St. and Rural Ln.

Bosco was cited after his coupe was struck on the left side by a car driven by John David Neer, 21, of 133 W. 3rd St. at the blind intersection. Two witnesses told police Bosco came from Rural Ln.

U.N. May Rule On Congo's 2 Rival Groups

Delegations Waited From Premier And President Of Nation

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —The U.N. Security Council lined up today for a possible fight on which Congolese delegation to hear — President Joseph Kasavubu's or Premier Patrice Lumumba's.

The rival leaders have named delegations to a council meeting on the Congo. There was a possibility that the meeting would be postponed if one of the delegations should be late.

The Belgian radio reported that Abbe Fulbert Youlou, president of the neighboring Republic of the Congo, a former French colony, prevented the Lumumba delegation from boarding a plane in his capital of Brazzaville, while permitting the Kasavubu delegation to proceed to New York. Airports in the Congo have been closed by the U.N. except to U.N. traffic.

Diplomats generally expected the Soviet Union would object to the 11-nation council hearing Kasavubu's representatives. Some speculated that if this happened the United States would object to its hearing Lumumba's people.

Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold disclosed that U.N. representatives were talking with Lumumba about his demand the U.N. give up control of the Leopoldville radio station.

Hammarskjold gave council members a report from his personal ambassador in Leopoldville, Rajeshwar Dayal of India, who said Lumumba tried twice Sunday to seize the station.

Dayal said Lumumba's action was "particularly regrettable" since he and Lumumba had begun discussions Saturday on the fate of the radio station and Lumumba had agreed not to try to seize the installation.

Troops of the 16,000-men U.N. force took over and closed the Leopoldville broadcasting station a week ago to keep Lumumba and Kasavubu from using it to incite their factions to civil war.

Kasavubu has named Joseph Ileo, the Senate president, as premier to succeed Lumumba. But Lumumba does not recognize he has been dismissed.

Hammarskjold told the council Friday night the Congo constitution entitled the president to fire the premier but did not entitle the premier to fire the president.

NEW YORK BRACING AS DONNA ROARS ON

Florida Sets Cleanup In Storm Wake

7 Killed By Donna; Governor May Ask Ike For Assistance

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Floridians planned massive repair and cleanup projects today in the wake of one of the century's worst hurricanes.

Gov. Leroy Collins said he intended to ask President Eisenhower to declare portions of south Florida a major disaster area and scheduled a helicopter flight to stricken sections.

An estimated 250,000 homes were without electricity and thousands of telephones were still out after passage of killer Hurricane Donna.

Seven persons were known dead in the state and two others were missing and presumed dead. Southeastern Red Cross headquarters in Atlanta listed 75 persons injured and 57 hospitalized.

The Red Cross reported 655 homes destroyed in Florida and said 3,208 received major damage and 9,299 minor damage.

Property damage in the Florida keys alone was estimated by insurance adjustors at between $30 and $40 million. Fort Myers and Lee County sustained damage estimated at $70 to $80 million, according to Sheriff Flanders Thompson and Civil Defense Director Michelle Hitzing.

Damage to the state's $250 million citrus crop was expected to run as high as 50 to 80 per cent in some areas.

Marines armed with M1 rifles and orders to shoot any looters patrolled the wreckage in the keys. Residents of battered Marathon were reported "hoarding water like gold dust," according to Sheriff John Spottswood.

Marine patrols from the Key West Naval Base were augmented by sailors of the Navy shore patrol, sheriff's deputies and state troopers.

The Army, Navy and Air Force joined in a gigantic cooperative military effort to reopen the Overseas Highway to Key West.

Forty Air Force transports started flying 117 Army bridge building experts and 810,000 pounds of steel into the area to replace five bridges destroyed Friday night when Donna hit the keys.

An Air Force officer said four-engine transports would bring 240,000 pounds of bridge girders and equipment from Pope Air Force Base, N.C. They will carry another 330,000 pounds from Ft. Benning, Ga., and 240,000 pounds from Ft. Campbell, Ky.

Hurricane Donna's 150 m.p.h. winds and huge tidal waves cut off the lower Florida keys from the mainland and left some 45,000 persons isolated except for boat and air transportation.

In addition 5,000 gallons of water was being brought to Homestead Air Force Base to be ferried to residents in the keys by the Navy.

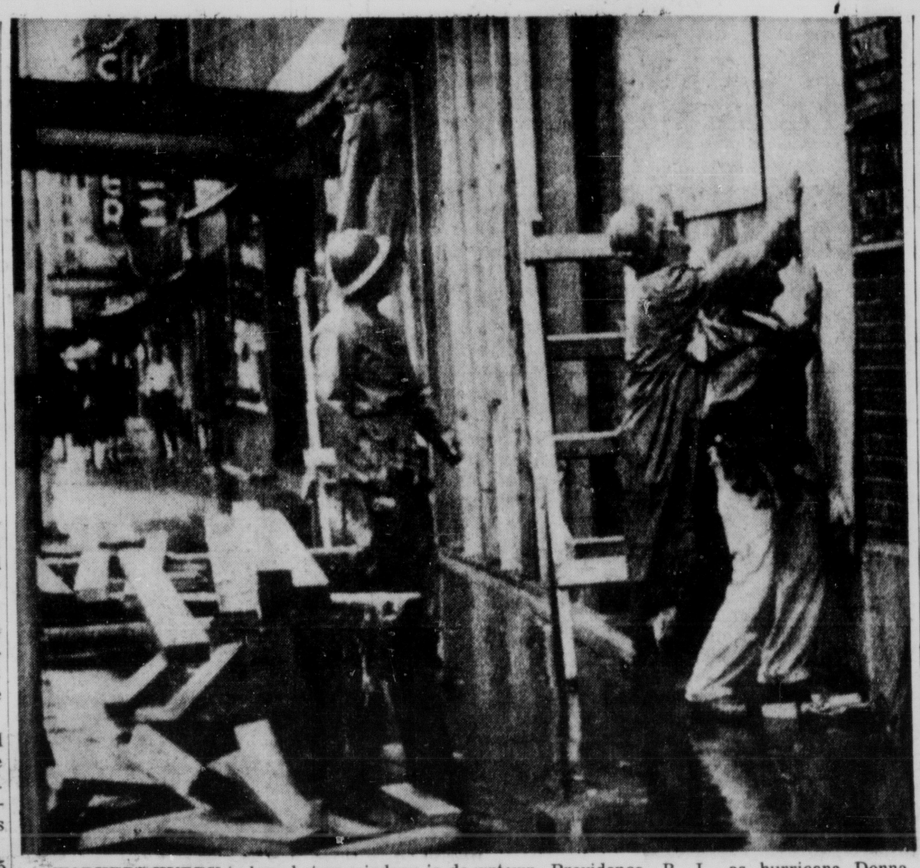

Water was rationed at Key West on the tip of the keys. Hotels and motels were asked to drain their

Loss Fixed At $3,000 After West Point Fire

WEST POINT — Archie Beaver of Lisbon R. D. 2 estimated a loss of $3,000 when a fire destroyed his garage containing tools and more than 200 bales of hay Saturday night.

West Point volunteer firemen responded to the alarm, but were able to save only the house, some 15 feet from the garage. Beaver said he believed spontaneous combustion started the fire. Neither the building nor the contents were insured, he said.

Long Island Area Begins Evacuation

Storm Shutters And Sandbags Put Up In New England States

NEW YORK (AP) — Hurricane Donna picked up speed today as it headed northeast toward New York and Long Island. Gale force winds, high tides and heavy rain were expected in the nation's largest city.

The Weather Bureau said the city already was beginning to feel "what may be a fringe" of the hurricane.

The hurricane was expected over the eastern end of Long Island about noon. Already more than 4,000 residents of Fire Island off Long Island had been evacuated by the Coast Guard.

The storm carried torrential rains and bristling 115 m.p.h. winds. Storm warnings were hoisted from the Carolinas north through New York to Portsmouth, N.H.

Storm shutters and sandbags were thrown up in southern New England. Tides up to 12 and 14 feet above normal were expected in upper Buzzards Bay on Cape Cod.

Rhode Island schools were closed and the National Guard was on standby alert.

Planes were evacuated from Mitchel Air Force Base on Long Island and from Bradley Air Force Base near Hartford, Conn.

In New York City, winds up to 75 miles an hour and tides eight to ten feet above normal were expected. Police headquarters ordered extra men to duty.

The Coast Guard used 15 ships to take residents off Fire Island, a narrow strip of land lying off the southern Long Island coast. Another 1,000 residents were still on the island, but in no immediate danger.

Donna, lashing out in the same fashion that carried her from the Caribbean to the Florida peninsula and then northward along the Atlantic Coast, raced into the North Carolina mainland shortly before midnight Sunday night.

By 5 a.m. today the Weather Bureau placed its center about 60 miles east of Norfolk, Va.

Winds gusts of up to 100 miles an hour were reported by the Chesapeake lightship 17 miles off Cape Henry, Va.

As the storm moved out to sea off the Virginia Capes, the Tidewater Virginia area appeared to have suffered only slight damage. Civil Defense officials in Norfolk said gale winds knocked down signs and other loose objects, and shattered a few windows but that flooding conditions were no worse than during a bad northeasterly storm.

Only one injury was reported, a woman who suffered facial cuts when a tree branch broke the windshield of her car.

Public transportation was ruled out in Norfolk and nearby Portsmouth because of some flooding and debris in the streets. Power

What Happens Now?

Next Step Waited As Probe Closes

CHARLESTON (AP) — The next move is up to the West Virginia Crime Commission now that five days of hearings into charges of illegal liquor sales and gambling in the Northern Panhandle are a matter of record.

One of the commission's co-chairmen, Del. J. C. Cruikshank (D-Clay), has called upon State Police Supt. Hazen Fair to make the next move, however.

Cruikshank noted that Col. Fair attended much of the hearings. The commission co-chairman said he was sure Fair heard witnesses testify "to the fact that in Hancock, Brooke, Ohio and Marshall counties they sell whisky across the bar, operate bookies, write numbers, keep and display slot machines, operate poker and crap tables — all in open violation of the laws of the State of West Virginia."

The Ivydale delegate said he expects the state police to take "immediate and positive action against these flagrant law violations."

The files of the Internal Revenue Service showed that in the four Northern Panhandle counties the federal government has issued for this fiscal year 56 licenses to engage in wagering, 392 to exhibit gaming devices and 109 for retail liquor sales.

Witnesses paraded before the crime commission for five days in the Ohio County Courthouse here. They included public officials on the one hand and bookies, bar operators and slot machine men on the other. They put flesh on the IRS statistics.

The 1960 legislature created the crime commission. The panel must report its findings and recommendations to the next legislative session — next January and February—and some members of the commission did not want to say at this time what might be advocated.

The Northern Panhandle is a narrow strip in between Pennsylvania and Ohio. Sale of liquor by the drink is legal in both those neighboring states. Thus, many say it's a matter of geography which promotes illegal whisky sales in such cities as Wheeling and Weirton, and the rest of the Northern Panhandle.

Thomas Goodwin of Wheeling, assistant prosecuting attorney for Ohio County, said:

"I'm not so sure it's the desire

Pair Arrested At Bar Held To Grand Jurors

Crime Commission's Findings Also Await Cumberland Panel

A city man and a Hookstown woman arrested by West Virginia State Police in a raid on the Cactus Bar Aug. 30 have been bound over to the Hancock County Grand Jury which convenes for the fall term Tuesday morning in New Cumberland.

Lambrose Louis Fellouzis, 28, of 121 W. 4th St., was bound over on $500 bond on two charges of exhibiting gaming devices and playing and betting gaming devices.

Martha Nola, 35, of Hookstown R. D. 1, was bound over on $500 bond on charges of possession of slot machines.

They appeared Friday afternoon before Squire John D. Herron of New Cumberland, who issued a search and seizure warrant for state police to raid the Cactus Bar on Route 30 back of Chester.

The cases of Hazel Shovlin, 31, of 506 E. 5th St., East Liverpool, charged with possession of whisky confiscated in the raid, and Helen Battistelli, also of East Liverpool, charged with sale of alcoholic beverages, were transferred to the court of John Bryan, Clay District justice of the peace.

The cases were transferred after an affidavit charging Squire Herron with prejudice was filed.

The sheriff's office in New Cumberland has summoned nearly all of the Grand Jury panel which will convene at 10 in the County Courthouse. Atty. Frank A. Pietranton, prosecutor, will present information asking for the indictments of a long list of persons.

The jury will scan testimony given at last week's session of the West Virginia Crime Commission in Wheeling when reports were given that illegal gambling and liquor sales are widespread in the Northern Panhandle.

A transcript of the testimony was asked by James I. Cullen, a New Cumberland barber, who served as foreman for the April term.

Donna, lashing out in the same fashion that carried her from the Caribbean to the Florida peninsula and then northward along the Atlantic Coast, raced into the North Carolina mainland shortly before midnight Sunday night.

By 5 a.m. today the Weather Bureau placed its center about 60 miles east of Norfolk, Va.

Winds gusts of up to 100 miles an hour were reported by the Chesapeake lightship 17 miles off Cape Henry, Va.

As the storm moved out to sea off the Virginia Capes, the Tidewater Virginia area appeared to have suffered only slight damage. Civil Defense officials in Norfolk said gale winds knocked down signs and other loose objects, and shattered a few windows but that flooding conditions were no worse than during a bad northeasterly storm.

Only one injury was reported, a woman who suffered facial cuts when a tree branch broke the windshield of her car.

Public transportation was ruled out in Norfolk and nearby Portsmouth because of some flooding and debris in the streets. Power

$7,000 Fire Destroys House At Georgetown

The home of Wilbur Duke, 55, of Georgetown, was destroyed by fire Sunday at 6 a. m. with total loss estimated at $7,000.

The house was beyond saving when the first firemen arrived from the Lawrenceville volunteer fire department, Guy Michaels, Lawrenceville chief said. Shippingport volunteer firemen also answered the alarm and helped to keep the blaze from spreading to other buildings.

Duke said he had gone to sleep and left an iron plugged in. He lived alone. About 15 Lawrenceville firemen answered the call.

Next Step Waited As Probe Closes

CHARLESTON (AP — The next move is up to the West Virginia Crime Commission now that five days of hearings into charges of illegal liquor sales and gambling in the Northern Panhandle are a matter of record.

One of the commission's co-chairmen, Del. J. C. Cruikshank (D-Clay), has called upon State Police Supt. Hazen Fair to make the next move, however.

Cruikshank noted that Col. Fair attended much of the hearings. The commission co-chairman said he was sure Fair heard witnesses testify "to the fact that in Hancock, Brooke, Ohio and Marshall counties they sell whisky across the bar, operate bookies, write numbers, keep and display slot machines, operate poker and crap tables — all in open violation of the laws of the State of West Virginia."

The Ivydale delegate said he expects the state police to take "immediate and positive action against these flagrant law violations."

The files of the Internal Revenue Service showed that in the four Northern Panhandle counties the federal government has issued for this fiscal year 56 licenses to engage in wagering, 392 to exhibit gaming devices and 109 for retail liquor sales.

Witnesses paraded before the crime commission for five days in the Ohio County Courthouse here. They included public officials on the one hand and bookies, bar operators and slot machine men on the other. They put flesh on the IRS statistics.

The 1960 legislature created the crime commission. The panel must report its findings and recommendations to the next legislative session — next January and February—and some members of the commission did not want to say at this time what might be advocated.

The Northern Panhandle is a narrow strip in between Pennsylvania and Ohio. Sale of liquor by the drink is legal in both those neighboring states. Thus, many say it's a matter of geography which promotes illegal whisky sales in such cities as Wheeling and Weirton, and the rest of the Northern Panhandle.

Thomas Goodwin of Wheeling, assistant prosecuting attorney for Ohio County, said:

"I'm not so sure it's the desire

Crime Commission's Findings Also Await Cumberland Panel

A city man and a Hookstown woman arrested by West Virginia State Police in a raid on the Cactus Bar Aug. 30 have been bound over to the Hancock County Grand Jury which convenes for the fall term Tuesday morning in New Cumberland.

Lambrose Louis Fellouzis, 28, of 121 W. 4th St., was bound over on $500 bond on two charges of exhibiting gaming devices and playing and betting gaming devices.

Martha Nola, 35, of Hookstown R. D. 1, was bound over on $500 bond on charges of possession of slot machines.

They appeared Friday afternoon before Squire John D. Herron of New Cumberland, who issued a search and seizure warrant for state police to raid the Cactus Bar on Route 30 back of Chester.

The cases of Hazel Shovlin, 31, of 506 E. 5th St., East Liverpool, charged with possession of whisky confiscated in the raid, and Helen Battistelli, also of East Liverpool, charged with sale of alcoholic beverages, were transferred to the court of John Bryan, Clay District justice of the peace.

The cases were transferred after an affidavit charging Squire Herron with prejudice was filed.

The sheriff's office in New Cumberland has summoned nearly all of the Grand Jury panel which will convene at 10 in the County Courthouse. Atty. Frank A. Pietranton, prosecutor, will present information asking for the indictments of a long list of persons.

The jury will scan testimony given at last week's session of the West Virginia Crime Commission in Wheeling when reports were given that illegal gambling and liquor sales are widespread in the Northern Panhandle.

A transcript of the testimony was asked by James I. Cullen, a New Cumberland barber, who served as foreman for the April term.

Patrol Captures 1 Of 7 Escapees

MARION, Ohio (AP)—Six of seven inmates who escaped Sunday night from the Marion Correctional Institution were at large today.

The Highway Patrol reported the capture of Louis Brown 26, of Bloomville, Seneca County, one of the seven, in the Marion area early today. The prisoners had cut a hole in a fence to make their escape from the medium security prison.

Prison officials identified them as:

Nathan Argento, 27, of Cleveland, sentenced for auto theft; Calvin Samples, 26, of Canton, grand larceny; Edgar Chism, 21, of Newark, forgery; Louis Brown, 26, of Bloomville, Seneca County, breaking and entering; Paul D. Willis, 25, of Ironton, burglary; Robert L. Grover, 33, of New Philadelphia, grand larceny; and Lynn Biddle, 25, of Helena, Sandusky County, burglary.

The escape apparently occurred between 7:40 p.m. and 10 p.m. when head counts were taken. Officials said all inmates were accounted for at 7:40 but the seven were missed at the 10 o'clock check.

They climbed out of a ground floor shower room window and made their way to the south fence. Officials said that from the looks of the hole in the fence it appeared that wire cutters had been used.

All seven were believed to be wearing blue-denim prison overalls with either blue prison shirts, sport shirts or T-shirts.

Crashes Hurt 2 Lorain Men

The Wintersville State Highway Patrol said a car driven by Eugene McLean, 36, of Lorain left Route 7 and crashed into a road sign and then continued on into a field at the intersection of Route 213 Saturday night at 11:35.

McLean was headed south when he apparently lost control and went off the right side of the highway, hitting the sign, officers said.

His companion, James Allen, 47, also of Lorain, is in "fairly good" condition at the hospital with neck and back injuries.

Officers said cars driven by Julia Rutan, 50, of Toronto R. D. 2 and Olive B. White of Toronto were involved in a head-on collision on the "super road" just below Wellsville city limits at 9 p. m.

Officers said the Rutan woman was driving on the wrong side of the divider strip in the oncoming lane of traffic.

The Rutan woman was taken to Jefferson County Jail at Steubenville where she was charged with driving while under the influence of alcohol. She was later released on bond.

Wellsville Couple Hurt In Mishap At Toronto

A Wellsville couple is in "good" condition today at City Hospital with injuries suffered when their car struck a utility pole in Toronto Saturday afternoon at 3:15.

Toronto police said a 1960 sedan driven by Dominic Cuti, 50, of 1229 Anderson Ave. sheared off the utility pole on N. 3rd St.

Cuti told officers he "blacked out momentarily." Police said Cuti was traveling north. The car swerved to the left and hit the pole, which held three transformers.

Driver Waits Hearing After Hancock Mishap

Hancock County sheriff's deputies said Wells' auto collided with another operated by Ronald O. Heeter, 19, of McClellandtown, Pa., at 11:30 on Route 30 in back of Chester. Damage to both vehicles was estimated at $1,600.

Venezuela Halts Plot To Seize Government

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)—A military plot against the regime of President Romulo Betancourt was put down early today, an official government announcement said.

The announcement said a lieutenant named Saldivia and a group of about 20 men seized the radio station "Continente" and held it for about an hour. They were arrested and the government said the situation had returned to normal.

Betancourt's moderate Socialist coalition has been harrassed by plots of both domestic and foreign origin during his more than a year as president.

Last June 24, he was badly burned when a cache of dynamite exploded as he rode by in an automobile. The Venezuelan government blamed that assassination attempt on the Dominican Republic and won support for its charges from the Organization of American States.

Much of Betancourt's domestic trouble has come from military officers who have tried to reimpose a military dictatorship.

Glenmoor Driver Hurt In Crash On Route 170

A 21-year-old Glenmoor motorist was injured in a two-car traffic accident Saturday night at 6:50 on Route 170 about a mile east of Route 30.

Lawrence Diddle was attempting a left turn onto Route 170 when his auto was struck in the side by another driven by Stanford W. Fitzsimmons, 55, of Calcutta.

The Lisbon State Highway Patrol said Fitzsimmons reported he did not see Diddle making the turn onto St. Clair. Ave. Diddle was treated at City Hospital for a laceration of the scalp. The patrol said Fitzsimmons was cited for unsafe operation.

The Wintersville State Highway Patrol said a car driven by Eugene McLean, 36, of Lorain left Route 7 and crashed into a road sign and then continued on into a field at the intersection of Route 213 Saturday night at 11:35.

McLean was headed south when he apparently lost control and went off the right side of the highway, hitting the sign, officers said.

His companion, James Allen,, 47, also of Lorain, is in "fairly good" condition at the hospital with neck and back injuries.

Officers said cars driven by Julia Rutan, 30, of Toronto R. D. 2 and Olive E. White of Toronto were involved in a head-on collision on the "super road" just below Wellsville city limits at 9 p. m.

Officers said the Rutan woman was driving on the wrong side of the divider strip in the oncoming lane of traffic.

The Rutan woman was taken to Jefferson County Jail at Steubenville where she was charged with driving while under the influence of alcohol. She was later released on bond.

Wellsville Couple Hurt In Mishap At Toronto

A Wellsville couple is in "good" condition today at City Hospital with injuries suffered when their car struck a utility pole in Toronto Saturday afternoon at 3:15.

Toronto police said a 1960 sedan driven by Dominic Cuti, 50, of 1229 Anderson Ave. sheared off the utility pole on N. 3rd St.

Cuti told officers he "blacked out momentarily." Police said Cuti was traveling north. The car swerved to the left and hit the pole, which held three transformers.

Driver Waits Hearing After Hancock Mishap

Hancock County sheriff's deputies said Wells' auto collided with another operated by Ronald O. Heeter, 19, of McClellandtown, Pa., at 11:30 on Route 30 in back of Chester. Damage to both vehicles was estimated at $1,600.

Venezuela Halts Plot To Seize Government

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)—A military plot against the regime of President Romulo Betancourt was put down early today, an official government announcement said.

The announcement said a lieutenant named Saldivia and a group of about 20 men seized the radio station "Continente" and held it for about an hour. They were arrested and the government said the situation had returned to normal.

Betancourt's moderate Socialist coalition has been harrassed by plots of both domestic and foreign origin during his more than a year as president.

Last June 24, he was badly burned when a cache of dynamite exploded as he rode by in an automobile. The Venezuelan government blamed that assassination attempt on the Dominican Republic and won support for its charges from the Organization of American States.

Much of Betancourt's domestic trouble has come from military officers who have tried to reimpose a military dictatorship.

Glenmoor Driver Hurt In Crash On Route 170

A 21-year-old Glenmoor motorist was injured in a two-car traffic accident Saturday night at 6:50 on Route 170 about a mile east of Route 30.

Lawrence Diddle was attempting a left turn onto Route 170 when his auto was struck in the side by another driven by Stanford W. Fitzsimmons, 55, of Calcutta.

The Lisbon State Highway Patrol said Fitzsimmons reported he did not see Diddle making the turn onto St. Clair. Ave. Diddle was treated at City Hospital for a laceration of the scalp. The patrol said Fitzsimmons was cited for unsafe operation.

Hearings Could Prove Beneficial

While many tend to shrug them off with a "So what?", it is our feeling that the West Virginia Crime Commission hearings served a useful purpose on behalf of law and order.

1.—The comprehensive inquiry had the effect of turning a glaring spotlight on a number of undesirable situations. The more powerful and the more constant the spotlight, the greater the possibility of remedial action. Already, as one aftermath, the foreman of the Hancock County grand jury has asked the commission for a transcript of the testimony.

2.—The negative thinking of too many law enforcement officers was brought sharply to the attention of the voters. Aroused by such flagrant defiance and ignoring of the law, there's always the hope that the electorate will become more discriminating in its choice of candidates in future elections. Frequently, to be sure, the choice leaves much to be desired, but if more honest, energetic people can be placed in public office here and there it will mean a breakthrough for efficient government. And other such breakthroughs could be expected to follow.

3.—The moral tone should improve in those communities whose names were dragged into the hearings. While, as pointed out earlier, many will forget the hard facts of corruption in a hurry, the need for a change can't help but strike home in many places where it had received little thought before.

Those favoring a general crackdown and a cleanup should find their ranks swelled as the result of the testimony.

4.—Legislation may result to help combat the present situation. Delegate George A. Rairden, Republican of Mason County, already is talking of a bill which would call for the creation of a statewide prosecuting attorney "who could investigate in any county" and another to make possession of a slot machine a felony.

Such bills have been sponsored unsuccessfully in previous West Virginia legislative sessions and undoubtedly will face rough sledding if brought up again. But the long-range outlook is for some necessary measures to receive approval eventually.

5.—The commission itself will present its recommendations to the 1961 legislative. From these recommendations could come other effective programs aimed at curtailing the wide open practices now in force.

The above points have their "iffy" side, but the Crime Commission has started the ball rolling.

Craziness Helps A Lot

It is not necessary for all of us to believe that one or both of the National Security Agency employes who defected to Russia must have been crazy.

Those who always react to the shock of traitorous behavior by snorting that the traitors were crazy are looking for a too-simple explanation.

They are like those gullible souls who believe every murderer must have been crazy, because that is the defense his lawyer falls back to get him off free. Some murderers are crazy. Other murderers are as sane as executioners. They just happen to have made an occupation of destroying life.

IT IS NOT necessary to be crazy to be taken in by the Communists' confidence game. It helps to be crazy, no doubt about it, but sane people can be hooked, too.

The physicist Robert J. Oppenheimer was hooked, and he wasn't crazy.

There are U.S. labor leaders who have felt enthusiastic about the way the Russians do things, and they're no crazier than foxes.

What's required for conversion to communism is a glutton's capacity for believing the best about Russia and the worst about the United States. The ideal defector to Russia thinks the grass on the other side of the Iron Curtain is greener.

Both in the statement they left behind them and in the statement they issued in Moscow, the two NSA defectors are hypercritical of the United States and blindly enthusiastic about the Soviet Union.

They are unable to feel good about the fact 40 per cent of the work force in this country is women employed in all branches of activity, but they think it is wonderful because women in Russia are permitted to work, though often at menial tasks like street-cleaning.

They resent technological unemployment in the United States, where mechanization and automation are far advanced, and claim that in Russia this consequence is unknown. But they do not say that in Russia industrialism has been mechanized only since World War II and technological unemployment is still to be experienced.

IN ONE REALLY remarkable passage of the declaration they left behind them, they sum up their bill of complaints against the United States by saying: "These activities indicate to us that the United States government is as unscrupulous as it has accused the Soviet government of being."

Therefore, giving the Soviet government the benefit of every doubt, they fled to Russia and paid for their Russian citizenship by letting themselves be used as public converts.

A convert to Communism doesn't have to be crazy, but it certainly helps when the time comes to tell how heavenly it is in brand-new Russia and how hellish it was back in the mean old U.S.A.

Events For A Future Olympics

Avery Brundage, International Olympic president, laid it on the line for United States athletes in a speech to the American Club of Rome.

U.S. athletes are outclassed in half the events on the Olympics program, he said. The United States is saved from being a second-class nation in Olympic competition only by its great Negro athletes. Life in this country is too soft.

Nevertheless, there are things Americans do routinely that would stagger even the hardy musclemen who do or die for dear old Russia. We aren't much for parallel bars, marathon running and steeple-chasing, but who would like to compete against us in dark-to-dawn pub-crawling, cross-country motoring and dollarchasing?

The pentathlon and the javelin throw are not our dish, but give us a chance to show what we can do with the Pentagon mill-around and log-rolling, which are homegrown Yankee Doodle accomplishments.

Or let us draw a bye in the running hop, step and jump, in which Americans have been at a disadvantage since Myer Prinstein won for this country in 1900 and 1904, and set up a new category for the 1964 Olympic Games in Tokyo—the hot-rod acceleration contest from a standing start with fuel injector.

Give us a crack at the things we do best, like late income-tax filing, free-style grousing, apple-polishing, petition-signing and law-passing and we'll make these Olympic hold-overs from the spirit of ancient Greece whimper for mercy.

And we haven't even referred to our remarkable prowess in the pressure bloc, the elbow in the ribs, the knife in the back, or wheeling and dealing, mouse-trapping and sucker-baiting.

Let's not concede a thing about U.S. prowess until we've brought the Olympic Games up to date. There isn't a single event in them that represents the American way. All that running, jumping, grunting and thrashing around may have been great stuff centuries ago, but it's as alien to American habits as running two miles and jumping into a creek before breakfast.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

For the first time in history candidates for the presidency of United States are including comedian and panel airwave shows in their campaigning.

This is like linking Lincoln-Douglas debates into old time vaudeville. "From log cabin to White House" is old stuff, replaced by "From Joe Miller's Joke Book to the Presidency."

Dick and Jack both got "into the act" on the Jack Paar show, a program of merriment, wiscracks and general flippancy and there's no telling where the "bookings" may end.

Our own Gallup poll shows they are running 50-50 in gags, with a dozen comedy programs still missing.

Your living-room screen may yet show Nixon and Kennedy on TV with credit lines, "Jokes by Oscar Blow. Additional Dialogue by Lew Blotz."

If the trend continues you may find Dick and Jack getting equal time on Groucho Marx, Phil Silvers and Burns and Allen programs.

There can even be a campaign for White House in which poll takers rate Nixon ahead on "People Are Funny" and Oscar Levant show with Kennedy leading on Ozzie and Harriet, Mort Sahl and "The Price Is Right" programs.

"I like Kennedy" said our neighbor, "but is he up to a Charlie Weaver or Buddy Hackett appearance? They tell me Nixon could steal a big lead if he makes the Sam Levenson, Dave Garroway and Mike Wallace shows."

"I hear both national committees are worried over what Jackie Gleason might do for the opposition," he continued.

It's a curious age when candidates for the most responsible office in U.S.A. in time of world crisis appear on even one comedy program, giving dignity the brushoff of brushoffs.

A NEW YORK WAITER has become an off-Broadway producer and will soon stage his first show. This will be one case where a waiter may be astonished by the check.

British lawyer at U.S. Bar Association convention listed among their dislikes, rice pudding, turnips, caraway seeds, six-inch butts and double-beds. Caraway seeds are pretty bad, of course.

Wonderment is expressed at long delay in conforming appointment of Robert A. Bicks as head of Anti-Trust Division of the Department of Justice. Mr. Bicks is a sort of boy wonder, in early '30s and joined the Justice Department a few years out of college. Rumor is that he has been extra tough in business world decisions, especially in almost completed bank mergers as traditionally proper before upset by him.

Timid Thomas won't even go near the goldfish or guppy bowl during the shark scare. In fact, he is nervous even at fish dinners.

An 'A' For Effort

Why Not Let The Customer Decide?

By Raymond Moley

Two or three years ago, I wrote a piece protesting against the policy of automobile maufactures which, by annual changes in styling, tried to induce customers to buy new cars every two or three years.

I said that it was not fair to a customer to sell him a car and in a few months tell him that his purchase was practically obsolete. This is what might be called "planned obsolescence."

I brought upon myself a shower of criticism from economists and financial writers. They said I failed to understand the American economy, which by great waste stimulated great production and a higher national product.

What, they said, would happen to the steel people if everybody insisted upon driving an automobile five or six years?

Indeed, I once heard the head of one of the great automobile companies tell an audience that if everybody decided to keep his automobile more than two years, his company would have to go out of business.

THE IMPLICATION in his remark was that somehow the American public owed his company a living. My thought, as he said what he did, was that he would learn that when it came to a choice of values, the American people would not care a hoot whether his company lived or not.

But now there is authority for my complaint by the head of a company that has certainly caught public favor and has forced recognition and imitation by the monster corporations with which it competes.

Mr. George Romney of American Motors said not long ago that it is time for American automobile companies to have more respect for their customers and to allow them to make their own decisions.

He said that so far as his company's compact model is concerned, it would be changed only when there was a real, practical, and mechanical need for a change. He declared in effect that the "style" racket has begun to pall upon the buying public.

The statistics show that his car and foreign cars have found favor with the public.

The common sense of it is that if television sets, refrigerators, shoes and other consumer items are supposed to be used by the original buyers until they are worn out, it is pretty silly after two years to have the family believe it needs a new automobile.

An automobile in its essential parts is a piece of mechanism, just like a typewriter or a phonograph. With care, it should last several years.

PERHAPS the pronounced changes in styling are aimed at the human instinct to "keep up with the Joneses." But when the Joneses decide to use their common sense, the competition ends.

And there is every evidence that it is ending. Witness the cars parked at any country club.

After trying in every conceivable way to make an automobile look like something it is not — an airplane, a boat, and what not — even the big companies are returning to more functional lines which cannot change from year to year.

It did not require a superplanner to decide that in Washington. The common sense of the customers determined it.

So far as personal prestige is concerned, it would seem that there is real distinction in the way one maintains what he has, be it his home, his farm, his garments, or his automobile. With proper care, an automobile loses no luster in five or more years.

Nobody except the vain and shallow can believe that the size and expensiveness of a car add stature.

It is common knowledge that many people who are driving the plush makes have mortgaged their homes, if they have homes, to buy the cars.

So far as the industries are concerned — the industries which profited by the styling craze—they have no right to be supported on an unsound marketing principle. And the sooner they adjust themselves to the change in public choices, the better.

U.S. 'Boxes-In' Mr. K

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

The American visits of Premier Nikita Khrushchev are taking on the air of a man looking over some valuable property he hopes to acquire.

When he first came here a year ago, he brought his own personal family along. This time he's bringing his Communist relatives, the top leaders of the Iron Curtain countries.

The mere thought of his presence seems to have a depressing effect. The last time he came, the stock market went down. At the news of his second coming, it dipped again.

The last time the American government couldn't have been more cordial if it had been a real estate agent. It didn't put up a "for sale" sign but it did hold open house so he could wander around.

This time the State Department is making it clear the United States is a restricted neighborhood where the residents have signed a covenant against letting Communists in.

Over the weekend the department said Khrushchev won't be permitted any American traveling at all. In fact, he'll be so limited he can't leave Manhattan Island, even to visit the Soviet lodge on Long Island.

It was done sweetly enough. The department said in effect it was making all America off-limits to him for his own safety.

Khrushchev shouldn't have any trouble interpreting this as a piece of diplomatic tit-for-tat for the way he wrecked the summit meeting, insulted President Eisenhower, called off his Russian trip, and exploited the U2 spy plane episode.

If it had announced such stern restrictions on Khrushchev before he embarked for this country, he might have exploded before a hastily summoned mass audience in Moscow and called off his trip.

Instead, it waited until Khrushchev and his Communist companion were all boxed-in and out at sea in the ship that is bringing them here Sept. 19, one day before the United Nations General Assembly opens.

He can't grab a microphone in the middle of the Baltic or the Atlantic. If he has a temper-tantrum no one except his shipmates will have to put up with it. If he wants to turn around and go home, it probably won't bother the department.

Our diplomats could say: But you made President Eisenhower go home, after traveling all the way to Paris for nothing, when you called off the summit meeting. So why feel so bad about it?

He has been expected to attack the United States within its own borders on the U.N. forum in New York anyway. So anything he adds to it out of pique will be just for extra.

Through The Years

THIRTY YEARS AGO — Jerry Hoyt of Klondyke was awarded the Chamber of Commerce silver cup for the best flower during the fifth annual show of the East Liverpool Dahlia Society.

Atruck, a touring car, farm implements and tools were destroyed when fire, believed to have been caused by a short-circuited storage battery, swept a garage on a farm about one mile west of West Point.

TWENTY YEARS AGO— The East Liverpool Potters went through their first session under the lights at Patterson Field during pre-season football practice.

A two-alarm fire destroyed two buildings and equipment valued at $12,000 at the Hancock Coal Co. mine, four miles south of Chester on the Tomlinson Run Rd.

Changes in traffic flow on the Diamond were set up with installation of new controls in the signal lights on 6th St. at Dresden Ave. and St. Clair Ave.

The Rev. M. Rudolph Miller of the First Presbyterian Church addressed some 450 during the annual exercises of the City Hospital School for Nurses at St. Stephen's Episcopal Church.

Public Notice

From ancient times the principle of giving notice has been practiced by civilized people everywhere. In Roman times notices were posted in the circus. At another time the town crier served this purpose.

For centuries civilized people have recognized the right of the community and of the individual to be put on notice. What is more important, they have practiced this principal consistently. It is possible to say that the true democracies could not neglect this principle and still preserve their way of life.

What is at stake in public notice is the simple right of the public to know, to be informed beforehand of some proposed action which affects someone's rights.

These may be the rights of the community itself or of some portion of it, of a group or groups within the community, or of people themselves, either as voters, as taxpayers, or as just plain individuals.

Today in the English - speaking countries, for example, the law usually provides for the publication of such notices in newspapers of paid general circulation. Taking all 50 states, there are thousands of such laws.

The newspaper is specified because it has an established following, gives wide coverage, is read thoroughly, is both visible and tangible, and is economical. The public notice is an important part of the American way of life.

Security Loopholes

By David Lawrence

More Thorough Check-ups Are In Order

Congressional investigating committees may be able to uncover in detail the weaknesses in the government's security check up system, but it is already clear what the real trouble is. The traitorous behavior of Messrs. Mitchell and Martin, employes of the National Security Agency who defected to the Soviet Union, might have been discovered in advance if there had been a fixing of responsibility for detecting security aberrations after an employe is once hired.

David Lawrence

The general public, for instance, thinks that the Federal Bureau of Investigation is the agency which has everything to do with national security.

The truth is the FBI a few years ago found the burden was too great, and said it would prefer that the executive departments do their own checking of applicants in the first instance, so as to enable the FBI to concentrate on actual violations of internal security.

So today the Civil Service Commission does most of the checking of applicants for all departments except the Defense Department and the Central Intelligence Agency.

Nearly every department, including the Atomic Energy Commission, also has a security set-up of its own. The FBI checks only the presidential appointees and high officials.

With the many thousands of applicants to be investigated every year, the task of checking is stupendous.

THE REAL difficulty is that, once the employes are hired, there is no comprehensive system of surveillance. It costs too much in time and money to do such a job with all government employes.

So the only logical thing now is to arrange for some machinery to carry on a checking operation in particular cases after employes in certain sensitive agencies are hired.

Thus, for instance, one of the two defectors in the National Security Agency had had a record of at least three courts martial in the U.S. Navy. There was a report in the files on it by the Office of Naval Intelligence. Why wasn't this a signal for a more intensive investigation later on by the security office of the National Security Agency?

There was a record, too, of a statement by a psychiatrist who told National Security Agency investigators that one of the young men had "deep-seated homosexual tendencies." The information came after he had been hired.

This should have been a danger signal, since it is known that Soviet agents mingle frequently with all homosexual groups that gather in particular restaurants and night clubs in this country.

The purpose is to find out just where any of them are employed, in the hope of developing contacts valuable for espionage purposes. This is an old technique and well known all over the world in intelligence circles.

IT MAY HAVE been, of course, that whoever had the responsibility for hiring the two former sailors was so impressed by their mathematical abilities that all derogatory reports were regarded as of secondary importance.

But now some valuable code-breaking devices of the American government have been handed over to the Soviets by Mitchell and Martin.

This should teach a lesson for the future, and it is a safe bet that what the congressional committees uncover in their closed-door sessions with the representatives of some of the important agencies of the government will be very useful hereafter in preventing similar episodes.

It is important, too, that various laws dealing with the problems of internal security and passports be strengthened. While it is natural for some of the so-called "liberals" already to begin warning that there must not be "any revival of McCarthyism," it is more important that those who have been using the "McCarthyism" smoke-screen to block needed legislation on security matters give way and let the necessary laws be passed.

Members of Congress themselves also have been lax. It seems incredible that Mitchell and Martin should have contacted a congressman without arousing suspicion as to irregularities involved.

It doesn't seem possible, for instance, that two minor employes of a hush-hush agency could call on a congressman without causing him to check with their superiors to find out why they were coming to Capitol Hill to talk about such important matters as secret plane flights over Russia.

But lots of people take things for granted when they see what appear to be legitimate credentials of investigators, and, to be sure, mistakes in judgment like this have occurred before.

THE WHOLE BUSINESS is tragic, including the anguish of the parents of the two defectors who have been trying for weeks to find out in Washington what happened to their sons.

Unfortunately, the young men in recent years did not stay close to their parents and preferred to remain recluses.

It is a sad story all the way through but whatever damage the young men did on code operations is certainly not irreparable. Codes can be changed and devices can be altered in the espionage game.

The most constructive result will be a better checking-up process. This President Eisenhower has already instituted. With the help of Congress, there should be substantial progress from now on in handling the vexatious problem.

Cotton Corners

By Truman Twill

Dear Nephew: I don't know how well you remember Huey Long. I wondered when his brother died how many people realized that the bullets which killed Huey Long were believed by many Americans to have saved this country from big trouble.

Earl Long and Huey were a team. Even when they were cutting up each other they were one of the greatest brother acts in political show business. To this day, I feel cold inside when I remember how strong they were. There was no limit to how far they could go, if they kept going. And there was nothing in sight to stop them.

They weren't the first to discover that some of the people can be fooled all the time. That was old stuff. But Huey Long was among one of the few men in his political generation to discover that political power in a representative democracy has no limits on its abuses.

Everybody in America has been educated to be afraid of dictatorship by a dictator. But so little has been said here about dictatorship by a demogags. Earl was one, too. They made careers of demagogery.

What others tried to do with moderate success they did with spectacular success because they were good at their trade. Their cynicism about voters, the public and popular government freed them from all restraint. They could do anything that came to their minds. They had no conscience.

I've often wondered how far Huey might have gone if he hadn't been shot down like a dog by that fellow Carl Austin Weiss. Then I've wondered how it would have fared with Weiss if Huey's muscle mob hadn't been handy with their guns to shoot him down. There were a lot of things to wonder about. It was possible for Huey to have been shot down by any one of hundreds of people who would have relished the job. But the trick was how to keep his bodyguards from going to work on the assassin before the job had been done on Huey.

It took a hero to trade his own life for the removal of a demagog. They never built a monument to Dr. Weiss, who was a murderer. But also a liberator, if you believe that Cassius was the hero and Caesar the villain in that particular situation.

I do not deplore the death of anyone whose removal constitutes a clear gain for mankind. I wished a thousand times that someone could put a shot through Adolf Hitler's head before he caused the slaughter of millions. It is not beyond my capacity to wish devoutly for the passing of my own fellow citizens who have demonstrated that they are capable of nothing but violence and corruption.

I did not weep when the bell tolled for Al Capone. I shall remain dry-eyed through the last rites for a dozen people whose names I'd be glad to furnish to you on request.

There is a time to live and a time to die, and what with one thing and another I see no reason to be squeamish about admitting that some of the happiest occasions we have in this broad and beautiful land are funerals.

I was not an admirer of the brothers Long of Louisiana. I cannot think of a better-timed exit than brother Earl made, in time to keep from adding his presence to the U.S. House of Representatives.

Hearings Could Prove Beneficial

While many tend to shrug them off with a "So what?", it is our feeling that the West Virginia Crime Commission hearings served a useful purpose on behalf of law and order.

1.—The comprehensive inquiry had the effect of turning a glaring spotlight on a number of undesirable situations. The more powerful and the more constant the spotlight, the greater the possibility of remedial action. Already, as one aftermath, the foreman of the Hancock County grand jury has asked the commission for a transcript of the testimony.

2.—The negative thinking of too many law enforcement officers was brought sharply to the attention of the voters. Aroused by such flagrant defiance and ignoring of the law, there's always the hope that the electorate will become more discriminating in its choice of candidates in future elections. Frequently, to be sure, the choice leaves much to be desired, but if more honest, energetic people can be placed in public office here and there it will mean a breakthrough for efficient government. And other such breakthroughs could be expected to follow.

3.—The moral tone should improve in those communities whose names were dragged into the hearings. While, as pointed out earlier, many will forget the hard facts of corruption in a hurry, the need for a change can't help but strike home in many places where it had received little thought before.

Those favoring a general crackdown and a cleanup should find their ranks swelled as the result of the testimony.

4.—Legislation may result to help combat the present situation. Delegate George A. Rairden, Republican of Mason County, already is talking of a bill which would call for the creation of a statewide prosecuting attorney "who could investigate in any county" and another to make possession of a slot machine a felony.

Such bills have been sponsored unsuccessfully in previous West Virginia legislative sessions and undoubtedly will face rough sledding if brought up again. But the long-range outlook is for some necessary measures to receive approval eventually.

5.—The commission itself will present its recommendations to the 1961 legislative. From these recommendations could come other effective programs aimed at curtailing the wide open practices now in force.

The above points have their "iffy" side, but the Crime Commission has started the ball rolling.

Craziness Helps A Lot

It is not necessary for all of us to believe that one or both of the National Security Agency employes who defected to Russia must have been crazy.

Those who always react to the shock of traitorous behavior by snorting that the traitors were crazy are looking for a too-simple explanation.

They are like those gullible souls who believe every murderer must have been crazy, because that is the defense his lawyer falls back to get him off free. Some murderers are crazy. Other murderers are as sane as executioners. They just happen to have made an occupation of destroying life.

IT IS NOT necessary to be crazy to be taken in by the Communists' confidence game. It helps to be crazy, no doubt about it, but sane people can be hooked, too.

The physicist Robert J. Oppenheimer was hooked, and he wasn't crazy.

There are U.S. labor leaders who have felt enthusiastic about the way the Russians do things, and they're no crazier than foxes.

What's required for conversion to communism is a glutton's capacity for believing the best about Russia and the worst about the United States. The ideal defector to Russia thinks the grass on the other side of the Iron Curtain is greener.

Both in the statement they left behind them and in the statement they issued in Moscow, the two NSA defectors are hypercritical of the United States and blindly enthusiastic about the Soviet Union.

They are unable to condone intelligence and counter-intelligence activities by the U.S. government, but they think the U.S.S.R. government is above counterspying.

They are unable to feel good about the fact 40 per cent of the work force in this country is women employed in all branches of activity, but they think it is wonderful because women in Russia are permitted to work, though often at menial tasks like street-cleaning.

They resent technological unemployment in the United States, where mechanization and automation are far advanced, and claim that in Russia this consequence is unknown. But they do not say that in Russia industrialism has been mechanized only since World War II and technological unemployment is still to be experienced.

IN ONE REALLY remarkable passage of the declaration they left behind them, they sum up their bill of complaints against the United States by saying: "These activities indicate to us that the United States government is as unscrupulous as it has accused the Soviet government of being."

Therefore, giving the Soviet government the benefit of every doubt, they fled to Russia and paid for their Russian citizenship by letting themselves be used as public converts.

A convert to Communism doesn't have to be crazy, but it certainly helps when the time comes to tell how heavenly it is in brand-new Russia and how hellish it was back in the mean old U.S.A.

Events For A Future Olympics

Avery Brundage, International Olympic president, laid it on the line for United States athletes in a speech to the American Club of Rome.

U.S. athletes are outclassed in half the events on the Olympics program, he said. The United States is saved from being a second-class nation in Olympic competition only by its great Negro athletes. Life in this country is too soft.

Nevertheless, there are things Americans do routinely that would stagger even the hardy musclemen who do or die for dear old Russia. We aren't much for parallel bars, marathon running and steeple-chasing, but who would like to compete against us in dark-to-dawn pub-crawling, cross-country motoring and dollarchasing?

The pentathlon and the javelin throw are not our dish, but give us a chance to show what we can do with the Pentagon mill-around and log-rolling, which are homegrown Yankee Doodle accomplishments.

Or let us draw a bye in the running hop, step and jump, in which Americans have been at a disadvantage since Myer Prinstein won for this country in 1900 and 1904, and set up a new category for the 1964 Olympic Games in Tokyo—the hot-rod acceleration contest from a standing start with fuel injector.

Give us a crack at the things we do best, like late income-tax filing, free-style grousing, apple-polishing, petition-signing and law-passing and we'll make these Olympic hold-overs from the spirit of ancient Greece whimper for mercy.

And we haven't even referred to our remarkable prowess in the pressure bloc, the elbow in the ribs, the knife in the back, or wheeling and dealing, mouse-trapping and sucker-baiting.

Let's not concede a thing about U.S. prowess until we've brought the Olympic Games up to date. There isn't a single event in them that represents the American way. All that running, jumping, grunting and thrashing around may have been great stuff centuries ago, but it's as alien to American habits as running two miles and jumping into a creek before breakfast.

The Once Over

For the first time in history candidates for the presidency of United States are including comedian and panel airwave shows in their campaigning.

This is like linking Lincoln-Douglas debates into old time vaudeville. "From log cabin to White House" is old stuff, replaced by "From Joe Miller's Joke Book to the Presidency."

Dick and Jack both got "into the act" on the Jack Paar show, a program of merriment, wiscracks and general flippancy and there's no telling where the "bookings" may end.

Our own Gallup poll shows they are running 50-50 in gags, with a dozen comedy programs still missing.

Your living-room screen may yet show Nixon and Kennedy on TV with credit lines, "Jokes by Oscar Blow. Additional Dialogue by Lew Blotz."

If the trend continues you may find Dick and Jack getting equal time on Groucho Marx, Phil Silvers and Burns and Allen programs.

There can even be a campaign for White House in which poll takers rate Nixon ahead on "People Are Funny" and Oscar Levant show with Kennedy leading on Ozzie and Harriet, Mort Sahl and "The Price Is Right" programs.

"I like Kennedy" said our neighbor, "but is he up to a Charlie Weaver or Buddy Hackett appearance? They tell me Nixon could steal a big lead if he makes the Sam Levenson, Dave Garroway and Mike Wallace shows."

"I hear both national committees are worried over what Jackie Gleason might do for the opposition," he continued.

It's a curious age when candidates for the most responsible office in U.S.A. in time of world crisis appear on even one comedy program, giving dignity the brushoff of brushoffs.

A NEW YORK WAITER has become an off-Broadway producer and will soon stage his first show. This will be one case where a waiter may be astonished by the check.

Wonderment is expressed at long delay in conforming appointment of Robert A. Bicks as head of Anti-Trust Division of the Department of Justice. Mr. Bicks is a sort of boy wonder, in early '30s and joined the Justice Department a few years out of college. Rumor is that he has been extra tough in business world decisions, especially in almost completed bank mergers as traditionally proper before upset by him.

An 'A' For Effort

Why Not Let The Customer Decide?

By Raymond Moley

Two or three years ago, I wrote a piece protesting against the policy of automobile maufactures which, by annual changes in styling, tried to induce customers to buy new cars every two or three years.

I said that it was not fair to a customer to sell him a car and in a few months tell him that his purchase was practically obsolete. This is what might be called "planned obsolescence."

I brought upon myself a shower of criticism from economists and financial writers. They said I failed to understand the American economy, which by great waste stimulated great production and a higher national product.

What, they said, would happen to the steel people if everybody insisted upon driving an automobile five or six years?

Indeed, I once heard the head of one of the great automobile companies tell an audience that if everybody decided to keep his automobile more than two years, his company would have to go out of business.

THE IMPLICATION in his remark was that somehow the American public owed his company a living. My thought, as he said what he did, was that he would learn that when it came to a choice of values, the American people would not care a hoot whether his company lived or not.

But now there is authority for my complaint by the head of a company that has certainly caught public favor and has forced recognition and imitation by the monster corporations with which it competes.

Mr. George Romney of American Motors said not long ago that it is time for American automobile companies to have more respect for their customers and to allow them to make their own decisions.

He said that so far as his company's compact model is concerned, it would be changed only when there was a real, practical, and mechanical need for a change. He declared in effect that the "style" racket has begun to pall upon the buying public.

The statistics show that his car and foreign cars have found favor with the public.

The common sense of it is that if television sets, refrigerators, shoes and other consumer items are supposed to be used by the original buyers until they are worn out, it is pretty silly after two years to have the family believe it needs a new automobile.

An automobile in its essential parts is a piece of mechanism, just like a typewriter or a phonograph. With care, it should last several years.

PERHAPS the pronounced changes in styling are aimed at the human instinct to "keep up with the Joneses." But when the Joneses decide to use their common sense, the competition ends.

And there is every evidence that it is ending. Witness the cars parked at any country club.

After trying in every conceivable way to make an automobile look like something it is not — an airplane, a boat, and what not — even the big companies are returning to more functional lines which cannot change from year to year.

It did not require a superplanner to decide that in Washington. The common sense of the customers determined it.

So far as personal prestige is concerned, it would seem that there is real distinction in the way one maintains what he has, be it his home, his farm, his garments, or his automobile. With proper care, an automobile loses no luster in five or more years.

Nobody except the vain and shallow can believe that the size and expensiveness of a car add stature.

It is common knowledge that many people who are driving the plush makes have mortgaged their homes, if they have homes, to buy the cars.

So far as the industries are concerned — the industries which profited by the styling craze—they have no right to be supported on an unsound marketing principle. And the sooner they adjust themselves to the change in public choices, the better.

U.S. 'Boxes-In' Mr. K

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

The American visits of Premier Nikita Khrushchev are taking on the air of a man looking over some valuable property he hopes to acquire.

When he first came here a year ago, he brought his own personal family along. This time he's bringing his Communist relatives, the top leaders of the Iron Curtain countries.

The mere thought of his presence seems to have a depressing effect. The last time he came, the stock market went down. At the news of his second coming, it dipped again.

The last time the American government couldn't have been more cordial if it had been a real estate agent. It didn't put up a "for sale" sign but it did hold open house so he could wander around.

This time the State Department is making it clear the United States is a restricted neighborhood where the residents have signed a covenant against letting Communists in.

Over the weekend the department said Khrushchev won't be permitted any American traveling at all. In fact, he'll be so limited he can't leave Manhattan Island, even to visit the Soviet lodge on Long Island.

It was done sweetly enough. The department said in effect it was making all America off-limits to him for his own safety.

Khrushchev shouldn't have any trouble interpreting this as a piece of diplomatic tit-for-tat for the way he wrecked the summit meeting, insulted President Eisenhower, called off his Russian trip, and exploited the U2 spy plane episode.

If it had announced such stern restrictions on Khrushchev before he embarked for this country, he might have exploded before a hastily summoned mass audience in Moscow and called off his trip.

Instead, it waited until Khrushchev and his Communist companion were all boxed-in and out at sea in the ship that is bringing them here Sept. 19, one day before the United Nations General Assembly opens.

He can't grab a microphone in the middle of the Baltic or the Atlantic. If he has a temper-tantrum no one except his shipmates will have to put up with it. If he wants to turn around and go home, it probably won't bother the department.

Our diplomats could say: But you made President Eisenhower go home, after traveling all the way to Paris for nothing, when you called off the summit meeting. So why feel so bad about it?

He has been expected to attack the United States within its own borders on the U.N. forum in New York anyway. So anything he adds to it out of pique will be just for extra.

Through The Years

THIRTY YEARS AGO — Jerry Hoyt of Klondyke was awarded the Chamber of Commerce silver cup for the best flower during the fifth annual show of the East Liverpool Dahlia Society.

Atruck, a touring car, farm implements and tools were destroyed when fire, believed to have been caused by a short-circuited storage battery, swept a garage on a farm about one mile west of West Point.

TWENTY YEARS AGO— The East Liverpool Potters went through their first session under the lights at Patterson Field during pre-season football practice.

A two-alarm fire destroyed two buildings and equipment valued at $12,000 at the Hancock Coal Co. mine, four miles south of Chester on the Tomlinson Run Rd.

Changes in traffic flow on the Diamond were set up with installation of new controls in the signal lights on 6th St. at Dresden Ave. and St. Clair Ave.

The Rev. M. Rudolph Miller of the First Presbyterian Church addressed some 450 during the annual exercises of the City Hospital School for Nurses at St. Stephen's Episcopal Church.

Public Notice

From ancient times the principle of giving notice has been practiced by civilized people everywhere. In Roman times notices were posted in the circus. At another time the town crier served this purpose.

For centuries civilized people have recognized the right of the community and of the individual to be put on notice. What is more important, they have practiced this principal consistently. It is possible to say that the true democracies could not neglect this principle and still preserve their way of life.

What is at stake in public notice is the simple right of the public to know, to be informed beforehand of some proposed action which affects someone's rights.

These may be the rights of the community itself or of some portion of it, of a group or groups within the community, or of people themselves, either as voters, as taxpayers, or as just plain individuals.

Today in the English - speaking countries, for example, the law usually provides for the publication of such notices in newspapers of paid general circulation. Taking all 50 states, there are thousands of such laws.

The newspaper is specified because it has an established following, gives wide coverage, is read thoroughly, is both visible and tangible, and is economical. The public notice is an important part of the American way of life.

Security Loopholes

By David Lawrence

More Thorough Check-ups Are In Order

Congressional investigating committees may be able to uncover in detail the weaknesses in the government's security check up system, but it is already clear what the real trouble is. The traitorous behavior of Messrs. Mitchell and Martin, employes of the National Security Agency who defected to the Soviet Union, might have been discovered in advance if there had been a fixing of responsibility for detecting security aberrations after an employe is once hired.

David Lawrence

The general public, for instance, thinks that the Federal Bureau of Investigation is the agency which has everything to do with national security.

The truth is the FBI a few years ago found the burden was too great, and said it would prefer that the executive departments do their own checking of applicants in the first instance, so as to enable the FBI to concentrate on actual violations of internal security.

So today the Civil Service Commission does most of the checking of applicants for all departments except the Defense Department and the Central Intelligence Agency.

Nearly every department, including the Atomic Energy Commission, also has a security set-up of its own. The FBI checks only the presidential appointees and high officials.

With the many thousands of applicants to be investigated every year, the task of checking is stupendous.

THE REAL difficulty is that, once the employes are hired, there is no comprehensive system of surveillance. It costs too much in time and money to do such a job with all government employes.

So the only logical thing now is to arrange for some machinery to carry on a checking operation in particular cases after employes in certain sensitive agencies are hired.

Thus, for instance, one of the two defectors in the National Security Agency had had a record of at least three courts martial in the U.S. Navy. There was a report in the files on it by the Office of Naval Intelligence. Why wasn't this a signal for a more intensive investigation later on by the security office of the National Security Agency?

There was a record, too, of a statement by a psychiatrist who told National Security Agency investigators that one of the young men had "deep-seated homosexual tendencies." The information came after he had been hired.

This should have been a danger signal, since it is known that Soviet agents mingle frequently with all homosexual groups that gather in particular restaurants and night clubs in this country.

The purpose is to find out just where any of them are employed, in the hope of developing contacts valuable for espionage purposes. This is an old technique and well known all over the world in intelligence circles.

IT MAY HAVE been, of course, that whoever had the responsibility for hiring the two former sailors was so impressed by their mathematical abilities that all derogatory reports were regarded as of secondary importance.

But now some valuable code-breaking devices of the American government have been handed over to the Soviets by Mitchell and Martin.

This should teach a lesson for the future, and it is a safe bet that what the congressional committees uncover in their closed-door sessions with the representatives of some of the important agencies of the government will be very useful hereafter in preventing similar episodes.

It is important, too, that various laws dealing with the problems of internal security and passports be strengthened. While it is natural for some of the so-called "liberals" already to begin warning that there must not be "any revival of McCarthyism," it is more important that those who have been using the "McCarthyism" smoke-screen to block needed legislation on security matters give way and let the necessary laws be passed.

Members of Congress themselves also have been lax. It seems incredible that Mitchell and Martin should have contacted a congressman without arousing suspicion as to irregularities involved.

It doesn't seem possible, for instance, that two minor employes of a hush-hush agency could call on a congressman without causing him to check with their superiors to find out why they were coming to Capitol Hill to talk about such important matters as secret plane flights over Russia.

But lots of people take things for granted when they see what appear to be legitimate credentials of investigators, and, to be sure, mistakes in judgment like this have occurred before.

THE WHOLE BUSINESS is tragic, including the anguish of the parents of the two defectors who have been trying for weeks to find out in Washington what happened to their sons.

Unfortunately, the young men in recent years did not stay close to their parents and preferred to remain recluses.

It is a sad story all the way through but whatever damage the young men did on code operations is certainly not irreparable. Codes can be changed and devices can be altered in the espionage game.

The most constructive result will be a better checking-up process. This President Eisenhower has already instituted. With the help of Congress, there should be substantial progress from now on in handling the vexatious problem.

Cotton Corners

By Truman Twill

Dear Nephew: I don't know how well you remember Huey Long. I wondered when his brother died how many people realized that the bullets which killed Huey Long were believed by many Americans to have saved this country from big trouble.

Earl Long and Huey were a team. Even when they were cutting up each other they were one of the greatest brother acts in political show business. To this day, I feel cold inside when I remember how strong they were. There was no limit to how far they could go, if they kept going. And there was nothing in sight to stop them.

They weren't the first to discover that some of the people can be fooled all the time. That was old stuff. But Huey Long was among one of the few men in his political generation to discover that political power in a representative democracy has no limits on its abuses.

Everybody in America has been educated to be afraid of dictatorship by a dictator. But so little has been said here about dictatorship by a demogags. Earl was one, too. They made careers of demagogery.

What others tried to do with moderate success they did with spectacular success because they were good at their trade. Their cynicism about voters, the public and popular government freed them from all restraint. They could do anything that came to their minds. They had no conscience.

I've often wondered how far Huey might have gone if he hadn't been shot down like a dog by that fellow Carl Austin Weiss. Then I've wondered how it would have fared with Weiss if Huey's muscle mob hadn't been handy with their guns to shoot him down. There were a lot of things to wonder about. It was possible for Huey to have been shot down by any one of hundreds of people who would have relished the job. But the trick was how to keep his bodyguards from going to work on the assassin before the job had been done on Huey.

It took a hero to trade his own life for the removal of a demagog. They never built a monument to Dr. Weiss, who was a murderer. But also a liberator, if you believe that Cassius was the hero and Caesar the villain in that particular situation.

Laos Seeking To Avert War

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP)—King Savang Vathana of Laos today called for a conference of rival leaders at the royal capital of Luang Prabang in an effort to avert the threat of civil war in his tiny kingdom.

Observers here say the break between the neutralist government of Premier Prince Souvanna Phouma at Vientiane and revolutionary elements of anti-Communist Gen. Phoumi Nosavan in southern Laos is now complete.

The latest development was the announcement that Prince Boun Oum of the former royal house of Champassak in southern Laos had become the new leader of the revolutionary committee. However, there was no indication that the prince had yet accepted the post.

Premier Phouma was named head of the two-week-old neutralist government which came to power after the pro-Western premier, Tiao Somsanith, was ousted as the result of a military coup last month.

Radio Vientiane broadcast the invitation to talks after Phouma met with the king to discuss the threat posed by pro-Western Gen. Phoumi in the southern part of Laos. There was no direct report of military action by Phoumi, who makes his headquarters at Svannakhet, about 175 miles southeast of Vientiane, but broadcasts from Savannakhet said he set up a revolutionary government Saturday to oppose the neutralist government.

Officers Are Baffled By This Canine Raffles

NOGALES, Ariz. (AP) — Amalia Rojas has a smart dog — and her neighborhood grocer will swear to that.

The dog would enter the store, pick up a can of dog food and carry it outside where children would open it for him.

The grocer changed the location of his dog food display. Old Fido wasn't confused at all. He pranced to the new location and helped himself.

Congo

However, he said U.N. representatives were under instructions to back neither Kasavubu nor Lumumba.

U.N. troops at gun point thwarted Lumumba's desperate attempt to seize control of the Leopoldville radio station Sunday. It was a blow to his prestige and pride.

Across the Congo River in Brazzaville, African officials of the former French Congo colony stopped two Lumumba delegates from transferring from a U.N. plane to a commercial airliner that was to take them to New York. They planned to present Lumumba's case before the Security Council.

The officials were Thomas Hanza, the Congo's minister to the United Nations, and Jacques Lumbala, a left winger who has the title of secretary of state for the presidency.

Both were returned to Leopoldville while another delegation sent by President Joseph Kasavubu was flying to New York. Kasavubu asked the United Nations to consider his delegation headed by Foreign Minister Justin Bomboko as representing "the legal government" of the Congo.

Toward the end of what was one of the most trying days in Lumumba's career, Congolese army commander Gen. Victor Lundula led 80 soldiers to the Leopoldville airport where he offered them to the service of the local U.N. commander, a Sudanese colonel.

The men, wearing helmets with camouflage nets, laid down their arms and received brooms instead to sweep the airport hangars.

U.N. officials said that peace was returning rapidly to the blood-soaked southeastern areas of Kasai province, and the border of secessionist Katanga province.

The U.N. command announced a truce in the bloody civil strife between Lumumba soldiers and hostile Baluba tribesmen, aided by partisans of Kasai secession.

Prior to the storm's arrival, the Navy had evacuated 82 planes from coastal installations and larger ships had either headed out to sea or gained safe anchorage in Chesapeake Bay.

The records of Donna since her birth in the South Atlantic weeks ago show a grim count of 128 deaths and property damage in many millions. Eight persons have met death in her path in the United States, six in Florida and one each in North Carolina and Georgia.

As it raged from the Leeward Islands through hurricane alley between Puerto Rico and the Bahamas it caused 120 known deaths and numerous injuries, mostly from flooding that accompanied torrential rains.

Youth Admits Attack Charge

A Pennsylvania youth charged with assault and battery in an attempted "rolling" of a handyman near the Cactus Bar Friday night was fined $50 and costs at a hearing Saturday afternoon before Squire Eugene Allison of Chester.

Nicholas (Peter) Pordash, 18, of Fredericktown, who Hancock County sheriff's deputies said gave a "terrific beating" to Robert Reckner of Hookstown, was returned to the New Cumberland Jail in lieu of the fine and costs.

Pordash entered a guilty plea to the charges.

Deputies said he fought with Reckner along the Route 30 highway late Friday night while thumbing home from Cleveland with a companion.

Deputies investigated possible charges of parole violation but said Pordash's term of parole had expired. He was taken into custody by Sheriff Clayton H. Hobbs, who received a call on the altercation while at home.

Meanwhile, deputies are checking fingerprints taken at Wells High School in Newell where vandals stole $5 in silver, smashed windows and broke doors and made off with containers of milk and pop sometime Friday night.

Ohio Prosecutor Thomas P. O'Brien testified before the commission that he did not think people in his county looked upon drinking liquor in a tavern "as a moral violation of the law."

Sheriffs, prosecutors and police chiefs said it would take much larger staffs then now exist to put an end to liquor sales and gambling in this area of the state.

Police Chief Joseph Rodak of Weirton said to enforce such laws in his city would require a policeman "in each establishment 12 to 18 hours a day." Hancock County Sheriff Clayton Hobbs said, "It would take a regiment of soldiers."

One commission member said he thought the Panhandle's problem was simply weak law enforcement. That was the view of Del. George A. Rairden (R-Mason) long a consistent opponent of whisky by the drink.

On the heels of the recent crime commission activity, state and city police raided the Charleston Press Club early yesterday, confiscating more than 150 bottles of liquor and wine.

The Press Club raid stemmed from one staged about three blocks west at the Driftwood Club. Two women were arrested in the Driftwood raid on charges of possession and sale of whisky. One of those arrested then signed an affidavit that she purchased a drink at the Press Club and a warrant was issued.

Officers Are Baffled By This Canine Raffles

NOGALES, Ariz. (AP) — Amalia Rojas has a smart dog — and her neighborhood grocer will swear to that.

The dog would enter the store, pick up a can of dog food and carry it outside where children would open it for him.

The grocer changed the location of his dog food display. Old Fido wasn't confused at all. He pranced to the new location and helped himself.

Congo

However, he said U.N. representatives were under instructions to back neither Kasavubu nor Lumumba.

U.N. troops at gun point thwarted Lumumba's desperate attempt to seize control of the Leopoldville radio station Sunday. It was a blow to his prestige and pride.

Across the Congo River in Brazzaville, African officials of the former French Congo colony stopped two Lumumba delegates from transferring from a U.N. plane to a commercial airliner that was to take them to New York. They planned to present Lumumba's case before the Security Council.

The officials were Thomas Hanza, the Congo's minister to the United Nations, and Jacques Lumbala, a left winger who has the title of secretary of state for the presidency.

Both were returned to Leopoldville while another delegation sent by President Joseph Kasavubu was flying to New York. Kasavubu asked the United Nations to consider his delegation headed by Foreign Minister Justin Bomboko as representing "the legal government" of the Congo.

Toward the end of what was one of the most trying days in Lumumba's career, Congolese army commander Gen. Victor Lundula led 80 soldiers to the Leopoldville airport where he offered them to the service of the local U.N. commander, a Sudanese colonel.

The men, wearing helmets with camouflage nets, laid down their arms and received brooms instead to sweep the airport hangars.

U.N. officials said that peace was returning rapidly to the blood-soaked southeastern areas of Kasai province, and the border of secessionist Katanga province.

The U.N. command announced a truce in the bloody civil strife between Lumumba soldiers and hostile Baluba tribesmen, aided by partisans of Kasai secession.

Prior to the storm's arrival, the Navy had evacuated 82 planes from coastal installations and larger ships had either headed out to sea or gained safe anchorage in Chesapeake Bay.

The records of Donna since her birth in the South Atlantic weeks ago show a grim count of 128 deaths and property damage in many millions. Eight persons have met death in her path in the United States, six in Florida and one each in North Carolina and Georgia.

As it raged from the Leeward Islands through hurricane alley between Puerto Rico and the Bahamas it caused 120 known deaths and numerous injuries, mostly from flooding that accompanied torrential rains.

Area residents wishing to inquire about the safety of relatives in the hurricane area may call the Red Cross office, FUlton 6-4144.

Youth Admits Attack Charge

A Pennsylvania youth charged with assault and battery in an attempted "rolling" of a handyman near the Cactus Bar Friday night was fined $50 and costs at a hearing Saturday afternoon before Squire Eugene Allison of Chester.

Nicholas (Peter) Pordash, 18, of Fredericktown, who Hancock County sheriff's deputies said gave a "terrific beating" to Robert Reckner of Hookstown, was returned to the New Cumberland Jail in lieu of the fine and costs.

Pordash entered a guilty plea to the charges.

Deputies said he fought with Reckner along the Route 30 highway late Friday night while thumbing home from Cleveland with a companion.

Deputies investigated possible charges of parole violation but said Pordash's term of parole had expired. He was taken into custody by Sheriff Clayton H. Hobbs, who received a call on the altercation while at home.

Meanwhile, deputies are checking fingerprints taken at Wells High School in Newell where vandals stole $5 in silver, smashed windows and broke doors and made off with containers of milk and pop sometime Friday night.

Ohio Prosecutor Thomas P. O'Brien testified before the commission that he did not think people in his county looked upon drinking liquor in a tavern "as a moral violation of the law."

Sheriffs, prosecutors and police chiefs said it would take much larger staffs then now exist to put an end to liquor sales and gambling in this area of the state.

Police Chief Joseph Rodak of Weirton said to enforce such laws in his city would require a policeman "in each establishment 12 to 18 hours a day." Hancock County Sheriff Clayton Hobbs said, "It would take a regiment of soldiers."

One commission member said he thought the Panhandle's problem was simply weak law enforcement. That was the view of Del. George A. Rairden (R-Mason) long a consistent opponent of whisky by the drink.

On the heels of the recent crime commission activity, state and city police raided the Charleston Press Club early yesterday, confiscating more than 150 bottles of liquor and wine.

The Press Club raid stemmed from one staged about three blocks west at the Driftwood Club. Two women were arrested in the Driftwood raid on charges of possession and sale of whisky. One of those arrested then signed an affidavit that she purchased a drink at the Press Club and a warrant was issued.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Punishment Of Children Discussed

Some who only occasionally read my column may suppose they would have my approval to slap, whack or spank a child at any time he did anything that annoyed them. Those who have read this column carefully for a number of years know that I would expect them to punish the tot very rarely and, in numerous annoying instances, not at all. Don't punish the baby or tot to make him quit crying. Don't punish the youngster under four or five to make him do what you have requested. Except in a few routine instances, don't even command him to do some definite act such as to pick up a block he has thrown, or to hug another child after he bit this child, or to close the door. Ask him and let him choose.

Garry C. Meyers

YOU MIGHT, however, properly punish him for throwing the block at something or somebody, or for hitting another child in your presence (not in self-defense).

Aim to make attractive the many things you want him to do, painful only the few things he must never do.

Don't punish just to make yourself feel better. Punish only with a reasonable purpose, to deter the tot from specific forbiddings, and only when you are complete master of yourself.

Punish only for what he does wrong in your presence, not on his own testimony for wrong behavior in your absence (applicable to all ages). Punish only when it can immediately follow the wrong act, and can be without exception. Aim to avoid punishment in connection with eating and toilet training.

Don't punish on the installment plan. No little tap growing harder and harder. It's the certainty rather than the severity of punishment that counts.

DON'T MAKE prlonged types of punishment. Make punishment short and decisive. End it with finality, never to bring it up again.

Don't use for punishment what you want the child to like. Don't be too eager to suit the punishment to the offense. The main thing is that discomfort shall be strongly connected in the child's mind with the forbidden act and the command, "No", or "Don't".

Don't use your tongue or tug at the child's heartstrings or refuse him your normal show of affection to punish him. Reserve your tongue for companionable communication and affection. There are not many times when deprivations can be effective from two to five. It's better, as a rule, to use the hand, and shift as early as possible to chair-sitting.

Aim always when punishing to set the stage so the child may turn directly with satisfaction to approved activity. Be generous with deserved praise.

My bulletins, "Stubborness" and "Celebrate Successess", may be had by sending a self - addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

Color Comes To Aluminum

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

When most of us think of aluminum, we think of a metal with a silvery-like coating.

But more and more, aluminum is taking on a variety of colors. In addition to the quantities of aluminum now being sold with a factory-baked finish, much aluminum already in use is being painted, both for decorative purposes and to give added protections against corrosive conditions.

For old aluminum, the only preparation required is the removal of loose surface dirt by brushing or light sanding. However, if there is any oil or grease on the metal, it should be taken off by wiping with mineral spirits.

An conventional quality exterior metal or wood primer can be used as the first coat, followed by one or more coats of exterior paint or enamel suitable for wood or metal.

Where an extremely corrosive atmosphere is present, as in certain coastal areas, the primer should be a corrosion - inhibiting paint, such as zinc chromate. This primer should have a very high zinc chromate content in the vicinity of chemical plants.

New aluminum usually has an invisible film of oil applied at the factory. This will disappear by itself on an exposure of five or six weeks.

If it is desired to paint the metal before that time, the oil can be removed with mineral spirits or, better yet, with a special commercial preparation, available at paint stores, which contains phosphoric acid mixed with a solvent or emulsifier. From that point, the procedure is the same as for old aluminum.

There will be times when the aluminum requires a refinishing, yet the silvery-like coating is satisfactory.

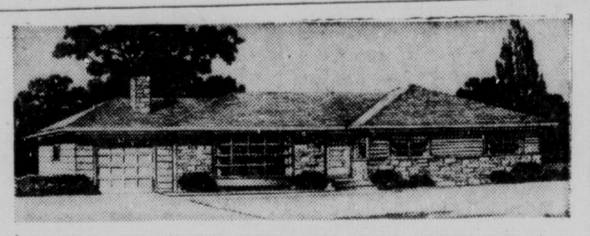

In that case, one of two things can be done. The final coat can be exterior aluminum paint or a clear lacquer. It must be remembered that clear lacquer enables the metal to keep its original appearance.

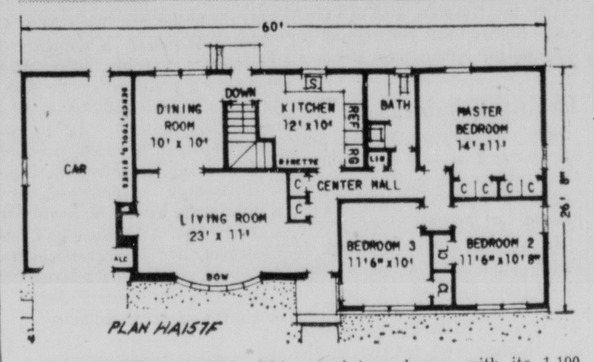

However, unpigmented coatings of this type do not have the life of ordinary paints for exterior exposure and thus will have to be renewed in a shorter period of time.

While factory - baked aluminum finishes hold up for a considerable period of time, they also may require refinishing.

If the surface is still smooth and glossy, it should be roughened with steel wool or sandpaper to provide proper adhesion. If the old coating is chipped or peeling and the bare metal exposed, the surface should be sanded to smooth out rough edges and to remove loosely-adhering paint.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Extra Vacation Pounds Need Trimming

A word to the wise ... newly-added poundage comes off easily. One reader has maintained her ideal weight by the simple expedient of promptly taking off pounds she gained on vacation. A New Jersey homemaker writes:

By Ida Jean Kain

"Without the aid of your calorie chart and my plan of taking off added vacation pounds, it would be no trouble for me to weigh 170 to 180 pounds! During the year I try not to let the pounds get more than two ahead of my 145 pounds, which is my best weight. But on a ten-day vacation I can gain 6 to 8 pounds! Immediately on return home I take reducing action.

"I have been one of your followers for more than five years. I reduced from 158 to 145 and wear a size 14. I am 44 years of age, and thanks to the chart, plus a little exercise (3 minutes a day of stretch-bend-swings) I don't look my age.

"ON RETURN from vacation I go back to 1,200 calories a day ... and stay with the plan until the pointer on the scales no longer wavers past the 145-pound mark. I have found this plan really works, whereas crash diets, classes, etc., are expensive and don't last.

"I've enjoyed your free service for years ... and want to thank you. Please send a Revised Calorie Chart ... mine is in shreds"

Friends, take a tip from this dieter and curb that "growing" appetite now During vacation it's natural to toss calorie caution to the summer breezes and indulge in rich, fattening fare.

The trouble is ... on returning to routine you find it takes a bit more food to satisfy your hunger. If you continue to eat the "little extra" and do not take the calories into account, you will establish your weight at this new high. If you are complacent about the added pounds ... they will tend to harden on.

During vacation you ate a wonderful breakfast. Continue to make the first meal of the day a satisfying one. A good breakfast is the key to successful reducing and to weight control. On a 1200-calorie diet allocate 400 calories for breakfast.

The food you eat early in the day is used efficiently; you're not as apt to store it as fat. You'll feel better and have more energy on a balanced breakfast, including protein.

Keep all meals high in satiety value. Meat is high in satiety and sticks to the ribs longest. At lunch time, lean meat with a couple of vegetables will stay with you. Or, have a lean meat (with mustard) sandwich, a tomato, fresh fruit, and a beverage.

AT DINNER have a liberal serving of lean meat, fish, or chicken, and with this have a potato, or a half a potato. A potato, eaten with the meat, adds to the satiety value of both foods.

Use only a half pat of butter on potato and trim fat from meat. Have a low calorie vegetable, plus a filling salad with dieter's dressing. Better stick to fruit for dessert.

Curb your appetite for one week and you will have it under control. Fail to curb appetite now ... and it will grow.

Send a long, self - addressed, stamped envelope for "Revised Calorie Chart." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of this newspaper. Postcard requests cannot be answered.

Many Effects Are Possible In Paint's Use

NEW YORK — While most people are satisfied with walls painted a solid color, there are a number of unusual decorative effects that can be achieved with paint.

Among these are stippled finishes, two-tone stipples, textured finishes and multi-colored walls.

Latex paints dry too quickly for stippling, so use the odorless alkyd paints which dry in a few hours and form a tough, abrasion-resistant finish that withstands repeated washing and scrubbing.

As in any type painting, there are a few preparatory steps that must be taken to insure a good job. Walls should be dusted and any oil or grease washed away. Cracks and holes are to be filled with spackling compound or patching plaster, sanded smooth and primed. Burnished areas and glossy spots should be roughened a bit with sandpaper.

For stippling, first paint the wall with the desired background color, using a brush or roller. Let this coat dry before going ahead. The can label will tell you how long to wait. The color to be stippled, a contrasting or harmonious one, is brushed heavily on a sheet of metal, wood or cardboard.

A slightly damp sponge is then pressed against the brushed-out paint. Then press the sponge against the wall, transferring the color to the base coat in an irregular pattern. This process is repeated until the entire wall is covered.

Or you can use special stippling brushes or rollers. For a two-tone effect, brush on the base coat as described above. After it has dried, the contrasting color is brushed or rolled on. While the latter is still wet, go over it with the stippling brush or roller. This leaves small areas where the undercolor shows through.

A stippled effect can also be obtained with a single color. This is made by brushing or rolling on the paint and then going over it with stippling brush or roller while it is still wet. This leaves a pebbly, three-dimensional surface.

To get a textured finish, there are special heavy texture paints which produce a rough, plaster-like surface. These paints come in a wide range of colors, in ready-mixed form. There are also powders that can be added to certain paints to produce the textured finish.

Texture paint is applied to the walls with a brush. While the surface is still wet, make the pattern by going over the wall with wads of crumpled newspaper, a sponge, whisk broom, comb or almost any article that will produce a pattern. There are also special rollers that will impart a textured pattern.

Texture finishes can be applied over any clean, dry surface — such as wallboard, plaster, brick, wood, stone or previously painted surfaces. This technique is fine for hiding scarred or marred walls that would otherwise have to be replastered to look presentable.

Chilled Water Suggested In Cooling Home

CHICAGO—Got a large house—a ranch house — or a rambling house that covers a large area?

Wondering how to cool it without spending a fortune on long runs of ducts?

Chilled water may be the answer because chilled water can be piped easily through small insulated pipe to remote locations at extremely low cost, the Plumbing - Heating - Cooling Information Bureau points out.

A chilled water cooling system is very simple in its construction and in its operation, the bureau explains.

It is because the water chiller may be located at any desired distance from the room cooling units that this type of a system is so well adapted for use in large or rambling houses.

Frequently, in houses heated with hot water, the chilling equipment is installed alongside the hot water heating boiler in the basement or utility room.

From here the chilled water is pumped by a circulator through small insulated pipe to one or more compact fan-coil units located in dropped ceiling plenum or air mixing chamber.

From the plenum the cooled air is shuttled to surrounding rooms through high wall registers. The fan-coil units are not bulky and they can be located in different areas or on different floors and all operate off one remotely-located refrigeration unit, that is, the water chiller.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Punishment Of Children Discussed

Some who only occasionally read my column may suppose they would have my approval to slap, whack or spank a child at any time he did anything that annoyed them. Those who have read this column carefully for a number of years know that I would expect them to punish the tot very rarely and, in numerous annoying instances, not at all. Don't punish the baby or tot to make him quit crying. Don't punish the youngster under four or five to make him do what you have requested. Except in a few routine instances, don't even command him to do some definite act such as to pick up a block he has thrown, or to hug another child after he bit this child, or to close the door. Ask him and let him choose.

YOU MIGHT, however, properly punish him for throwing the block at something or somebody, or for hitting another child in your presence (not in self-defense).

Aim to make attractive the many things you want him to do, painful only the few things he must never do.

Don't punish just to make yourself feel better. Punish only with a reasonable purpose, to deter the tot from specific forbiddings, and only when you are complete master of yourself.

Punish only for what he does wrong in your presence, not on his own testimony for wrong behavior in your absence (applicable to all ages). Punish only when it can immediately follow the wrong act, and can be without exception. Aim to avoid punishment in connection with eating and toilet training.

Don't punish on the installment plan. No little tap growing harder and harder. It's the certainty rather than the severity of punishment that counts.

DON'T MAKE prlonged types of punishment. Make punishment short and decisive. End it with finality, never to bring it up again.

Don't use for punishment what you want the child to like. Don't be too eager to suit the punishment to the offense. The main thing is that discomfort shall be strongly connected in the child's mind with the forbidden act and the command, "No", or "Don't".

Don't use your tongue or tug at the child's heartstrings or refuse him your normal show of affection to punish him. Reserve your tongue for companionable communication and affection. There are not many times when deprivations can be effective from two to five. It's better, as a rule, to use the hand, and shift as early as possible to chair-sitting.

Aim always when punishing to set the stage so the child may turn directly with satisfaction to approved activity. Be generous with deserved praise.

My bulletins, "Stubborness" and "Celebrate Successess", may be had by sending a self - addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

The appointment of Howard R. Martin Jr., formerly of East Liverpool, as a divisional sales manager for Marion Power Shovel Co. was announced today by A. M. Colatrino, sales manager for the Marion firm.

Martin will represent the firm in a 25-county area of central and southern Ohio. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard R. Martin of Calcutta Acres.

Martin, a 1958 graduate of Kent State University, recently completed an intensive sales training course with Marion. While attending KSU he worked part time as a heavy equipment operator for the Portage County engineers office. He served overseas with the Seabees from 1951 to 1955 and was an instructor in heavy equipment operation for three years.

Martin is married to the former Doris Dreussi of East Liverpool. They have two sons, Warren, 4, and Gregory, 13 months, and reside at 738 Windsor St. in Marion.

Here Are Some Things To Do

Preparation Aids Moving

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Let the mover prepare and there will be less despair, if you are the one-in-five who will move this year, as the U. S. Census Bureau estimates.

Sit down and think. What can you do immediately to make the final stages of moving less hectic.

There are three stages to moving for most people.

The first is the big cleanup. Don't move anything you don't need to that new house. Dispose of everything you don't need — give it away or sell it, but don't take it with you.

These items could include lawnmowers, children's cribs, toys, furnishings that you plan to replace.

The second stage is preparation. If you plan on using a professional packing service, call them at once.

Last year 35 million Americans moved to new homes, we are told, and van companies are busiest in the fall. If you plan to do your own packing, what can you pack now? Decide on the china and glassware, out of season clothing, seldom used articles that can be packed. Attic and cellar organization can make the rest of the house fall into place for last-minute packing.

Send clothes to the cleaners, send furniture out that must be reupholstered, so that it can be delivered to your new home if possible and save you moving costs.

THE THIRD stage is packing. If you are moving nearby, transport some items — books, lamps, cameras, garden equipment and lawn furniture, valuable figurines, sculpture, art works.

There is a special low-rate for book shipments if you ship them parcel post, one way to cut weight if your mover is using interstate rates charging you on the basis of weight and mileage.

Pack dishes in barrels or drums, wrapping each dish in newspaper so that there is enough newspaper between it and the next object. Heirloom dishes, your favorite Dresden figurine, other fragile objects may be packed in a container lined with a sheeting of latex foam available by the yard.

Many movers use that method. Plastic dinnerware such as break resistant melamine does not need special packing.

Use it up until the last moment for meals, and pack it in an ordinary box. It can be used for the first meals in the new house.

Linens should be packed in cartons, not dresser drawers. Most modern dressers are too lightly constructed to carry heavy weights. But it's not a good idea to pack a carton so full that it bulges on top.

EXPERIENCED movers like to use colored tags or tape to mark items that go into special rooms. That way moving men can move tags of one color to the room designated and save confusion later.

Things you will need the first night — bedclothes, toiletries, kitchen equipment should be taken with you. If not, tag them to be put on the truck last. When necessary mark cartons "right side up."

Try to move outdoor furniture, workshop equipment, lawn equipment, ladders and tools to the new house in advance. Transport these items yourself if possible. Ditto record books, insurance policies, and other valuable documents.

A professional packing service makes the move easier as they will supply you with special cartons and wardrobes for clothes in advance.

But not everyone can afford it. The end of the week is a good time to move when the man of the house is on hand to lend assistance with special chores.

Everything that can be done in the house before hand — from hanging draperies to arranging pictures on the wall if at all possible will make the trek to the new home lighter.

Windows should be washed and floors waxed if possible. And the wise homemaker will pack a picnic basket stocked with a good dinner for the first night. A picnic cooler is ideal for transporting refrigerator foods.

$2,400 Raised In Palsy Drive

Local talent assisted with the entertainment on WSTV at Steubenville, which got under way at midnight Saturday and continued until 5 p. m. yesterday.

A battery of telephone operators at The Review building accepted district pledges. Youngsters who made neighborhood collections took the funds to the newspaper office, where they were met by Bozo the Clown of Pittsburgh TV fame.

Richard Brian, local finance chairman, made the estimate of East Liverpool area receipts. Frank Fluno served as his assistant.

The area total was swelled by funds which members of the Key Club collected by halting autos at the Chester Bridge and on the Diamond. Gray Ladies served coffee and doughnuts to the local telethon volunteers, who worked throughout the night.

Brian said local collections hit their peak between 1:30 and 4:30 p. m. The overall total raised by the telethon was placed at about $30,600, including the East Liverpool cash and pledges.

Mrs. Martha Garren is president of the CPA Parental Group. Lawrence Zollinger is president of the local group.

Top stars of the telethon were Marvin Miller, who plays the role of Michael Anthony on the TV show, "Millionaire," and James Brown, who has the role of Lt. Masters in the "Rin Tin Tin" show.

Ohioan Identified As Victim In '43 Crash Of Bomber

TRIPOLI, Libya (AP) — Air Force officials have confirmed that the remains found in the Libyan desert recently are those of Lt. John S. Woravka of Cleveland, Ohio, a crew member of the "Lady Be Good," a B24 that crashed in 1943.

Wheelus Air Force Base here said Woravka's remains were brought to the base for shipment to the United States. They were found about a mile from where the other eight members of the crew are believed to have gathered after bailing out of the crippled aircraft.

The only body not found is that of Staff Sgt. Vernon Moore of New Boston, Ohio.

The well preserved wreck of the Liberator bomber, which was returning from a wartime mission over Naples, Italy, was found by a British oil team in the arid desert wastes in April 1959.

Last February, the remains of five crew members were found by another oil team. A diary found with those remains identified Woravka as one of four other crewmen still missing at that time.

Wheelus experts believe either his parachute failed to open and he was killed instantly, or he was seriously injured in the drop and died later.

Two of the bomber's propellers were brought back to the base. One will be shipped to the Air Development Division of Wright-Patterson AFB near Dayton, Ohio, and may eventually go to an Air Force museum.

The other propeller may be mounted at Wheelus as a memorial to the airmen of the "Lady Be Good."

Backlash From 'Donna' Darkens District Skies

District skies will remain dark and temperatures will be chilly today from the backlash kicked up by Hurricane Donna's passage up the east coast.

There will be scattered showers today, with a high temperature of 70-75. The overnight low will be 48-53. Tuesday will be fair with little temperature change.

Dam 8 at Newell measured 21 hundredths of an inch of rain Sunday. Raw, chilly weather marked the day, with a high reading of 69 degrees. The overnight low was 59.

Tulane's 1960-61 basketball team has four lettermen back, including junior Jack Ardon, 6-foot-9 center.

Steps Outlined For Repair Of Leaky Faucet

AP Newsfeatures

Question: Every time a faucet leaks in our house, it costs us several dollars to get it fixed. The plumber takes only a few minutes to change the washer. Isn't this something I can do myself? It doesn't seem to require any special tools.

Answer: Yes, changing the washer in a faucet is a relatively simple task and, as you say, does not require any special tools.

An adjustable wrench and a screwdriver usually are all the tools required. The first step is to turn off the water, either at the main supply valve or a branch line. Next, loosen the cap or packing nut just under the faucet handle. Place a piece of tape or cloth between the jaws of the wrench and the sides of the nut to avoid marring the chrome or nickel finish. The nut is turned counterclockwise to loosen.

When this has been done, turn the faucet handle as though you were turning on the water. Keep doing this until the spindle can be lifted up and out. At the end of the spindle, you will see a washer, held in place by a small brass screw. The leak in the faucet occurs when this washer gets chewed up or dislodged.

Remove the screw, throw away the old washer and put on a new spindle, tighten the packing nut and turn on the water. That's all there is to it — under ordinary conditions.

The trouble occurs, occasionally, when the screw at the end of the spindle will not turn or breaks off. In that case, you will need one other tool — pliers. Use the pliers to turn and remove the screw. Sometimes you have to cut away the old washer so that you can get a grip on the screw with the pliers.

When washers have to be replaced too frequently, it usually means that the faucet seat has become rough and needs smoothing. A small, inexpensive tool can be purchased at your hardware dealer for this purpose.

New Stock Exchange Due To Begin Operations Soon

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—A new stock exchange is on the drawing boards. It reverses a trend of recent years when several smaller exchanges combined on a regional basis.

The National Stock Exchange, which hopes to get going here by the end of the year to deal in shares at present unlisted elsewhere, will be the first entirely new one since the Securities and Exchange Commission was set up in 1934. It will make 13 now registered by that agency. There are four unregistered exchanges.

The new exchange will start small with probably only a dozen stocks listed. It will offer little threat to the business of the older exchanges. The New York Stock Exchange has stocks of 1,141 companies listed and in 1959 did 84 per cent of all trading on the registered exchanges. The American Stock Exchange has about 800 listed, expects 100 new ones this year for the biggest year since the SEC took over. In 1959 it did 9.4 per cent of the national business.

Stocks listed on the newest exchange will come from among the 8,000 or more now traded over the counter. And dealers in that flourishing business question whether the National Exchange will put much of a crimp in their trade.

Skeptics in Wall Street wonder why companies now unlisted on other exchanges would want to list on the new outfit, especially since its requirements are roughly the same as those of the American Stock Exchange. But officers of the newcomer say they have a sizable list of applicants and are accepting only a fraction of them.

Minimum requirements on the National Exchange narrow the list to companies with assets of $1 million, with 150,000 common shares in the hands of 500 holders. The American Exchange requires at least 500 public owners (not counting those in management) of at least 100,000 outstanding shares.

The New York Stock Exchange minimum is 1,500 holders of 400,000 common shares of a company with net income of $1 million and assets of $8 million.

All exchanges, including the newcomer, have committees that dig much deeper than that into the affairs of a corporation before listing its stock.

Trading on the National Exchange will be on a floor now being prepared in the building of its sponsor, the Mercantile Exchange, which trades in commodities. The Mercantile's nationwide network of 81 tickers will carry the quotations. National Exchange officers expect the network will expand rapidly when stock quotations are added.

Commissions charged on the new exchange will be roughly the same as on the other two in New York.

Lisbon Crash Hurts Man, 36

A Pittsburgh motorist suffered a possible fractured jaw when his auto went off the highway near Lisbon and traveled 213 feet out of control Sunday night at 10:30, the Lisbon State Highway Patrol reported.

William T. Brown, 36, was attempting to pass another vehicle when he drove off the left side of the highway and into a ditch, the patrol reported.

The patrol said Brown and another auto were traveling northwest on Route 30 about nine-tenths of a mile southeast of Lisbon when both vehicles pulled out to pass another car.

Brown was unable to drive back into the line of traffic because of an approaching car and went off the road. He was taken to Salem City Hospital.

Peaches Seen Priced Right

Locally grown peaches and tomatoes are of good quality and reasonably priced, according to Richard Skinner, market information agent with the Agricultural Extension Service.

Those who waited for school to start before canning should plan to do so this week. The quantity is such that they are reasonably priced and are also of good quality.

Hale Haven and Elberta are the two peach varieties in largest supply. Both are good for freezing or canning, however the Hale Haven is a better fresh peach.

The supply of tomatoes for both canning or juice is good, but will probably begin to decrease.

You can expect to pay $1.75 to $2 per bushel now but as supply decreases, the price will tend to edge upward. Look for tomatoes that are firm but well-ripened and plump, free from blemishes and well-formed unless you want to use them for juice. In this case, if the price is right, slight blemishes or irregular shape may not be a serious factor.

Other locally grown fresh produce which offers good buys, are cabbage, peppers, lima beans, egg plant, cucumbers, plums, apples and grapes.

This Tree's Really Big, But It Isn't 'Biggest'

MILTON, N. C. (AP) — Folks thought that a black oak tree on the Connally's View Farm near here was the biggest in the country.

It's 19 feet, 10 inches around at a point four and one-half feet above ground, rises 64 feet and has a leaf spread of 74 feet. Foresters have estimated its age at more than 500 years.

But State Forester F. H. Clairidge says it isn't the biggest black oak (quercus velutina) in the country.

He says there's a bigger one listed by the American Forestry Association at Lloyd's Neck, Long Island, New York.

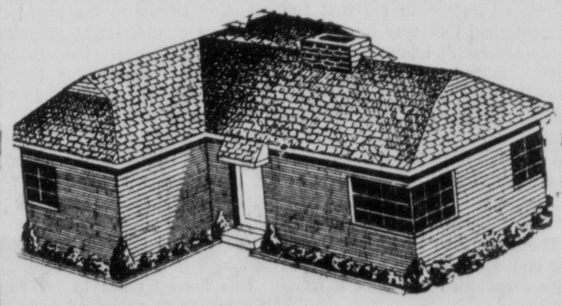

Fort Rosalie in Missouri was the scene of a two-day massacre in November 1729 when Natchez Indians slaughtered 144 men, 35 women and 56 children.

This Tree's Really Big, But It Isn't 'Biggest'

MILTON, N. C. (AP) — Folks thought that a black oak tree on the Connally's View Farm near here was the biggest in the country.

It's 19 feet, 10 inches around at a point four and one-half feet above ground, rises 64 feet and has a leaf spread of 74 feet. Foresters have estimated its age at more than 500 years.

But State Forester F. H. Claridge says it isn't the biggest black oak (quercus velutina) in the country.

He says there's a bigger one listed by the American Forestry Association at Lloyd's Neck, Long Island, New York.

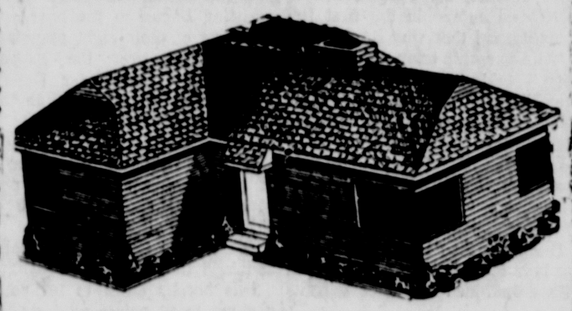

Fort Rosalie in Missouri was the scene of a two-day massacre in November 1729 when Natchez Indians slaughtered 144 men, 35 women and 56 children.

Drysdale's Two-Hitter Tops Braves

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

When they hand out the prize for "comeback of the year" in 1960, Curt Simmons should step front and center and take a bow.

Cut loose by the Phillies in June, the veteran left-hander appeared to be all washed up. When the Phils can't use you, things are tough. But Curt shopped around and came up with a job on the St. Louis Gardinal staff which needed a southpaw.

Simmons is one big reason why the Cardinals still are in the National League race with only three weeks to go. He beat his old Philadelphia mates Sunday 7-3 for the fourth straight time.

As a result the Cards gained a half game on Pittsburgh which was rained out of a doubleheader with Chicago. The Pirates still hold a comfortable 6½-game lead on St. Louis and have opened a 7½-game edge on third-place Milwaukee.

Don Drysdale of the Los Angeles Dodgers dimmed Milwaukee's faint hopes when he shut them out with two hits 2-0. It was his second straight shutout and third in his last four starts.

Gus Bell's home run and Jim O'Toole's pitching gave Cincinnati a first-game victory over San Francisco 2-1 but the Giants came back to take the second 3-2 for Stu Miller on Willie McCovey's 13th homer.

Drysdale allowed only a single by Wes Covington in the fifth and a single by Ed Mathews in the seventh and brought his strikeout total for the season to 222 in 243 innings by fanning seven Braves.

Lew Burdette's hopes of winning 20 for the third straight year suffered a relapse when he was cuffed for his 10th defeat. Burdette, who has won 16, allowed only five singles.

The Giants and Reds had been scheduled for a single game but Saturday's rainout forced them to double up on their last meeting. Bell and O'Toole teamed up on Juan Marichal in the opener. The rookie lost his second game although he gave up only five hits.

Records Came At Fast Pace In 1960 Olympic Contests

By JOHN FARROW
Associated Press Sports Writer

ROME (AP)—Olympic athletes streamed out of Rome today leaving the world's sports fans wondering just how fabulous the records will be when they reassemble in Tokyo for the 1964 games.

Track and field stars smashed five world records and tied another four. Twenty nine Olympic records went into the books.

How much better can the records get? How much faster can the boys and girls run?

"It's a question of the development of the whole human race," the Italian sprinter said. "Men get bigger, fitter and medical research helps to improve the times and distances that men jump. "Who can say where it will end?"

Larry Snyder, chief coach of the American track and field team, saw it this way:

"People are in better health, they get better food. They grow bigger and bigger. The world's track coaches and officials help each other to develop new ideas and techniques.

"It would be a brave man who would say it's going to end at a certain point. We just don't know how much further we're going to go."

All this talk left the experts wondering if world times like Herb Elliott's 3:35.6 for the 1,500 meters will still be on the books when Tokyo comes round.

Elliott himself is doubtful. He thinks that in time a 3:50 mile is possible. And a 3:50.0 mile would drop the 1,500 meters record several digits lower.

About 8,000 athletes from 87 countries came to Rome for the games Aug. 25. Some started trickling out of the Eternal City even before Sunday's closing ceremony.

A few minutes earlier the German horse riding team of Hans Winkler, Alwin Schockemohle and Fritz Thiedemann had successfully defended the team title won by Germany in 1956.

The scarlet-coated Germans won the gold medal with a team score of 47½ penalty points.

The American squad of George Morris, New Caanan, Conn., Frank Chapot, Wallpack, N.J., and Bill Stenkraus of Westport, Conn., came second with a score of 66 penalty points. Italy finished third with 80½ points.

That was the last event on the Olympic program that ended with the Soviet Union the dominant sports nation of the world.

The Soviets won 43 gold medals, 28 silver and 31 bronze for an unofficial points score of 807½, based on 10 for first place, 5 for second, 4 for third, etc.

The United States took 34 gold medals, 21 silver and 16 bronze for a second place points score of 564½.

U.S. Cagers Complete Sweep

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer

ROME (AP) — "The most explosive team I have ever seen. It was a grand way to bow out."

Coach Pete Newell summed up for his mighty collection of American all-stars who trounced Brazil 90-63 Saturday night to complete an eight-game sweep of the Olympic basketball championships.

The United States has won five titles with a perfect record ever since the American-originated sport was put on the Olympic program in 1936.

Newell, now athletic director at the University of California, compiled an outstanding record as head coach in the past 14 years with San Francisco, Michigan State and California.

With Jerry Lucas, the agile, 6-8, all-America from Ohio State, leading the way with one tap-in after another, the Yanks rolled up a 16-2 advantage in the first five minutes and that was it.

"The greatest team I have ever seen," said Brazilian star Walmir Marques. He also played for Brazil in the 1956 Olympics in Melbourne.

He received an ovation from the capacity crowd of 15,000 in the gleaming, circular Palazzo Dello Sport.

Oscar Robertson, the three-time all-America from Cincinnati and the country's leading college scorer for three years, was next high for the United States with 12 points. He was outstanding, however, in setting up plays and in assisting Lucas on the boards.

In five of their eight games the Yanks went over the 100-point mark. They could have done it again Saturday night anytime they wanted. But the points no longer counted as they did when there was a possibility of a tie in the standings and the point spread would have been the deciding factor.

The team totalled 815 points and held the opposition to 476.

For the first 13 Olympics of record, the competition consisted of a single race of 200 yards. The first victor in 776 B. C. was Coroebus of Elis, a cook.

The prescribed length of a bowling lane is 62 feet, 10 3-16th inches with a half-inch tolerance permitted.

Orioles Win But Trail By Full Game

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

Lo the poor Indians. If the New York Yankees win the American League pennant they can thank the Cleveland Tribe for their unwilling cooperation.

By sweeping a Sunday doubleheader from Cleveland 5-0 and 3-2 in 11 innings, the front-running Yanks made it nine in a row over the Indians, 16 out of 22 for the year and 11 of their last 12 meetings. No other club in the league, including the Kansas City A's, has been such a patsy.

The Yanks lengthened their lead to one full game over Baltimore despite the Orioles' 4-0 conquest of Kansas City with the help of 40-year-old Dave Philley. The veteran, acquired from San Francisco about 10 days ago, collected three hits, including a homer, and drove in three runs.

Chicago stuck in there, winning a pair from Boston, 5-3 and 1-0, with coach Tony Cuccinello doing the managing instead of ailing Al Lopez who was suffering from a virus infection. Billy Pierce needed help to hold the opener safe but Early Wynn went all the way with a six-hit shutout in the second game.

Harmon Killebrew hit three home runs for Washington but Detroit grabbed both ends from the Senators 8-3 and 8-5. Killebrew had one homer, and a single and double in the first game and drove in all of Washington's runs in the second game.

Mickey Mantle's 34th home run won the second game in the 11th after each club scored once in the 10th.

Fine relief pitching by Mike Garcia and Frank Baumann helped Pierce in the opener against Boston after Chicago jumped off to a 4-0 lead in the first two innings.

Frank Lary struggled out of a pitching slump and ended a six-game Detroit losing streak in the opener with Washington. Dick Gernert, newly acquired first baseman, drove in two runs that brought the Tigers from behind. Al Kaline hit a grand slam homer in the second game.

Brown Is Satisfied

Mitchell Sparks Browns To 16-10 Win Over Bears

CLEVELAND (AP) — Coach Paul Brown was satisfied with the Cleveland Browns' performance Saturday night in Akron when they beat the Chicago Bears 16-10, despite a poor passing attack.

It was the team's fourth victory in five National Football League exhibitions. With the Detroit Lions the final pre-season opponent Saturday night at Cleveland Stadium, the Browns are assured their first winning exhibition record since 1953.

Bobby Mitchell, running brilliantly throughout the practice schedule, put on another dazzling exhibition in the Rubber Bowl, scoring on runs of 11 and 64 yards.

The latter run contained an element of surprise — coming on a third down and 18 situation when the Bears were looking for a pass.

Milt Plum and Len Dawson both saw action at quarterback, but they netted only 45 yards on passes.

"We were playing against what I call a gambling defense," explained Brown. "They (the Bears) either were putting on an all-out blitz or dropping almost everybody back.

"It can make a team look bad for a while but you're vulnerable to the big play—like Mitchell's run."

Sam Baker booted a 28-yard field goal and one extra point. He had another conversion try blocked, along with a field goal attempt. A third Cleveland field goal try was blocked, too.

"They just steamed through and blocked those kicks," said Brown.

"It was a breakdown someplace. They have two fast men rushing from the same side.

"It's good to have it happen now rather than in the regular season. We can do something about it. It's comforting to have a booming punter like Sam."

"Most refreshing thing about our defensive backs is the tackling," said the coach. "They all like that contact. Fleming has the makings of a real star."

Bootin' Ben Gives LA 21-20 Victory In AFL

By The Associated Press

The former New Mexico standout, who has the brine-toughened stump of his right foot encased in a special shoe for his kicking chores, booted the Los Angeles Chargers to a 21-20 victory over the Dallas Texans in the key clash on the AFL's inaugural weekend program.

It was Agajanian's third conversion with 2:15 remaining that gave the Chargers, Western Division pre-season favorites, a successful opening.

In other AFL regular season debuts, the Houston Oilers beat the Oakland Raiders, 37-22, and the New York Titans rapped Buffalo's Bills, 27-3.

In the National League—where the regular season opens Sept. 23—Bobby Mitchell barrelled 11 and 64 yards for touchdowns in Cleveland's 16-10 exhibition triumph over the Chicago Bears. Nick Pietrosante dove over from the 1-yard line in the fourth quarter as Detroit tied New York's Eastern Division champs, 16-16. Green Bay edged the Dallas Cowboys, 28-23, on a last quarter 12-yard pass from Bart Starr to Paul Hornung.

The struggle between the Chargers and Texans revolved around a missed extra point by Dallas' Jack Spikes. The Chargers, trailing 20-7 in the fourth quarter, tied it on a 7-yard touchdown run by quarterback Jack Kemp and his 4-yard TD toss to Howie Ferguson. Agajanian then booted the clincher.

George Blanda, 32-year-old NFL veteran, passed for four touchdowns—including the go-ahead 3-yarder to Johnny Carson in the third period—kicked four conversions and a field goal for Houston.

Buffalo took a 3-0 lead over New York in the opening period on Darrell Harper's field goal, but that was it for the Bills. The first of Bill Shockley's two field goals and touchdown runs of 2 and 15 yards by quarterback Al Dorow put the Titans out of reach.

The American squad of George Morris, New Caanan, Conn., Frank Chapot, Wallpack, N.J., and Bill Stenkraus of Westport, Conn., came second with a score of 66 penalty points. Italy finished third with 80½ points.

The Soviets won 43 gold medals, 28 silver and 31 bronze for an unofficial points score of 807½, based on 10 for first place, 5 for second, 4 for third, etc.

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer

Coach Pete Newell summed up for his mighty collection of American all-stars who trounced Brazil 90-63 Saturday night to complete an eight-game sweep of the Olympic basketball championships.

The United States has won five titles with a perfect record ever since the American-originated sport was put on the Olympic program in 1936.

Newell, now athletic director at the University of California, compiled an outstanding record as head coach in the past 14 years with San Francisco, Michigan State and California.

With Jerry Lucas, the agile, 6-8, all-America from Ohio State, leading the way with one tap-in after another, the Yanks rolled up a 16-2 advantage in the first five minutes and that was it.

Oscar Robertson, the three-time all-America from Cincinnati and the country's leading college scorer for three years, was next high for the United States with 12 points. He was outstanding, however, in setting up plays and in assisting Lucas on the boards.

In five of their eight games the Yanks went over the 100-point mark. They could have done it again Saturday night anytime they wanted. But the points no longer counted as they did when there was a possibility of a tie in the standings and the point spread would have been the deciding factor.

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

Lo the poor Indians. If the New York Yankees win the American League pennant they can thank the Cleveland Tribe for their unwilling cooperation.

By sweeping a Sunday doubleheader from Cleveland 5-0 and 3-2 in 11 innings, the front-running Yanks made it nine in a row over the Indians, 16 out of 22 for the year and 11 of their last 12 meetings. No other club in the league, including the Kansas City A's, has been such a patsy.

The Yanks lengthened their lead to one full game over Baltimore despite the Orioles' 4-0 conquest of Kansas City with the help of 40-year-old Dave Philley. The veteran, acquired from San Francisco about 10 days ago, collected three hits, including a homer, and drove in three runs.

Chicago stuck in there, winning a pair from Boston, 5-3 and 1-0, with coach Tony Cuccinello doing the managing instead of ailing Al Lopez who was suffering from a virus infection. Billy Pierce needed help to hold the opener safe but Early Wynn went all the way with a six-hit shutout in the second game.

Harmon Killebrew hit three home runs for Washington but Detroit grabbed both ends from the Senators 8-3 and 8-5. Killebrew had one homer, and a single and double in the first game and drove in all of Washington's runs in the second game.

Mickey Mantle's 34th home run won the second game in the 11th after each club scored once in the 10th.

Fine relief pitching by Mike Garcia and Frank Baumann helped Pierce in the opener against Boston after Chicago jumped off to a 4-0 lead in the first two innings.

Frank Lary struggled out of a pitching slump and ended a six-game Detroit losing streak in the opener with Washington. Dick Gernert, newly acquired first baseman, drove in two runs that brought the Tigers from behind. Al Kaline hit a grand slam homer in the second game.

Brown Is Satisfied

Mitchell Sparks Browns To 16-10 Win Over Bears

CLEVELAND (AP) — Coach Paul Brown was satisfied with the Cleveland Browns' performance Saturday night in Akron when they beat the Chicago Bears 16-10, despite a poor passing attack.

It was the team's fourth victory in five National Football League exhibitions. With the Detroit Lions the final pre-season opponent Saturday night at Cleveland Stadium, the Browns are assured their first winning exhibition record since 1953.

Bobby Mitchell, running brilliantly throughout the practice schedule, put on another dazzling exhibition in the Rubber Bowl, scoring on runs of 11 and 64 yards.

The latter run contained an element of surprise — coming on a third down and 18 situation when the Bears were looking for a pass.

Milt Plum and Len Dawson both saw action at quarterback, but they netted only 45 yards on passes.

"We were playing against what I call a gambling defense," explained Brown. "They (the Bears) either were putting on an all-out blitz or dropping almost everybody back.

"It can make a team look bad for a while but you're vulnerable to the big play—like Mitchell's run."

Sam Baker booted a 28-yard field goal and one extra point. He had another conversion try blocked, along with a field goal attempt. A third Cleveland field goal try was blocked, too.

"They just steamed through and blocked those kicks," said Brown.

"It was a breakdown someplace. They have two fast men rushing from the same side.

"It's good to have it happen now rather than in the regular season. We can do something about it. It's comforting to have a booming punter like Sam."

"Most refreshing thing about our defensive backs is the tackling," said the coach. "They all like that contact. Fleming has the makings of a real star."

Bootin' Ben Gives LA 21-20 Victory In AFL

By The Associated Press

Bootin' Ben Agajanian, 40, a journeyman pro who kicks 'em through the uprights with only one toe, has reactivated his career as one of the veteran retreads playing prominent roles in the new American Football League.

The former New Mexico standout, who has the brine-toughened stump of his right foot encased in a special shoe for his kicking chores, booted the Los Angeles Chargers to a 21-20 victory over the Dallas Texans in the key clash on the AFL's inaugural weekend program.

It was Agajanian's third conversion with 2:15 remaining that gave the Chargers, Western Division pre-season favorites, a successful opening.

In other AFL regular season debuts, the Houston Oilers beat the Oakland Raiders, 37-22, and the New York Titans rapped Buffalo's Bills, 27-3.

In the National League—where the regular season opens Sept. 23—Bobby Mitchell barrelled 11 and 64 yards for touchdowns in Cleveland's 16-10 exhibition triumph over the Chicago Bears. Nick Pietrosante dove over from the 1-yard line in the fourth quarter as Detroit tied New York's Eastern Division champs, 16-16. Green Bay edged the Dallas Cowboys, 28-23, on a last quarter 12-yard pass from Bart Starr to Paul Hornung.

The struggle between the Chargers and Texans revolved around a missed extra point by Dallas' Jack Spikes. The Chargers, trailing 20-7 in the fourth quarter, tied it on a 7-yard touchdown run by quarterback Jack Kemp and his 4-yard TD toss to Howie Ferguson. Agajanian then booted the clincher.

George Blanda, 32-year-old NFL veteran, passed for four touchdowns—including the go-ahead 3-yarder to Johnny Carson in the third period—kicked four conversions and a field goal for Houston.

Buffalo took a 3-0 lead over New York in the opening period on Darrell Harper's field goal, but that was it for the Bills. The first of Bill Shockley's two field goals and touchdown runs of 2 and 15 yards by quarterback Al Dorow put the Titans out of reach.

St. Anthony Eleven Spoils Newell's 1960 Debut, 27-13

Staley Passes For Vikings' 2 Touchdowns

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

Newell failed to come up with an adequate ground attack to go with a nifty passing game and dropped its 1960 opener to Follansbee St. Anthony, 27-13.

Coach Pete Horoszko uncovered a bright young passer in junior Mickey Staley, who was sidelined with an injury after the first game in 1959. Staley was most of Newell's offense Saturday night, passing for both TD's.

Follansbee, with a trio of speedy backs, struck three times on the ground and went to the airlanes for another touchdown.

A touchdown pass from Staley to capable receiver Ron Noland in the first period was called back because of a holding penalty. It would have been the first touchdown of the game and might have changed the complexion.

However, it was Follansbee which scored first officially with a touchdown in the second quarter. Dom Sisinni bucked over from the one-yard line midway through the period to climax a 36 - yard drive.

The Steelmen took a 14-0 lead when Sisinni again went 23 yards for the touchdown. A pass from Phil Casinelli to halfback John Julio netted the extra point.

Follansbee then moved ahead 21-0 when Casinelli, the Steelmen's quarterback, hit end Martin Gaudio with a pass for a scoring play covering 19 yards. Julio again ran for the extra point.

Newell only passed five times in the first half, but kept the pigskin moving through the airlanes 18 times in the last half.

The Viking offense rested squarely on the shoulders of Staley, since Newell had a net of only 13 yards on the ground.

Noland, the fleet right halfback for the Vikings, snagged the first touchdown catch in the left flat from seven yards out. Dick Daugherty swept the right side for the extra point. The touchdown came on the last play of the third quarter on the end of a 72-yard march, with Staley passing to Noland and Bob Barnett all the way down field.

With four minutes gone in the fourth quarter, Follansbee capped its scoring when Croce cashed in from the two-yard line. A pass for the extra point failed.

Newell waited until the last play of the game to score its second touchdown. Alert Kip Smith, a linebacker playing his first season of football, recovered his third fumble of the game on the Newell 46.

Newell then moved to the Follansbee 30 with only seconds remaining in the game. Then Staley tossed down the middle to Bob Barnett, who grabbed the ball on the 10-yard line and sped into the end zone.

Beavers Bounce Back To Whip Springfield, 30-12

IT'S THE end of the line for halfback Charlie Tolar (44) of the Houston Oilers as he is brought down on a punt return by guard Joe Barbee (77) of the Oakland Raiders in the first half of a game Sunday at Kezar Stadium. The contest marked the AFL opener for both teams. (UPI Telephoto)

McLaughlin, Beagle Lead Beaver Attack

A 12-point deficit didn't mean a thing to a scrappy Beaver Local team which bounced from behind to topple Springfield Local, 30-12 in the opening game of the 1960 season Saturday at the Williamsport field.

In the first 10 plays from scrimmage, Springfield had two touchdowns but Coach Jack O'Rourkes charges came clawing back with 16 points in the second quarter and a pair of touchdowns in the fourth period.

Dale Beagle hit paydirt first for Beaver Local on a plunge from three yards out. He added two extra points and chopped Springfield's lead to 12-8.

Ron McLaughlin put the Beavers in front to stay when he raced 40 yards late in the second quarter. Beagle added the pair of extra points and Beaver Local took a 16-12 lead at intermission.

It was Beagle and McLaughlin accounting for all four touchdowns. McLaughlin scored his second on a 35-yard burst in the fourth quarter and Beagle followed by taking a 20-yard pass from quarterback Mike Klembara.

Jack Raugh tallied on a 50-yard pass play from his brother Don and Ron Wire went across from the two to account for Springfield's scoring.

O'Rourke praised the work of Klembara, "who did a fine job at quarterback," along with the running of Beagle and McLaughlin.

Webber, Messenger Lead Fairfield In 62-26 Rout

Coach Bruce Weber's Fairfield-Waterford team was a young bunch last season and got pushed around a good bit. Apparently the Rebels have grown up over night and are ready to do some pushing back.

The Rebels turned in a 62-26 rout over Mineral Ridge Saturday at McDonald in their first outing of the season.

Webber hit paydirt four times on runs of 80 and 90 and plunges of 2 and 4 yards. Meanwhile Messenger had a field day by scampering 40 yards for one TD and scoring two more of the short variety from inside the 10.

Fairfield scored once in the first period and three times in the second to take a 28-0 margin at halftime.

Salineville Takes Opener By Topping Jackson-Milton

SALINEVILLE — The coaching debut of Al Girone was a successful one as his Salineville eleven rolled to a 36-6 victory over Jackson-Milton here Saturday in the opener for both squads.

Salineville scored quickly in the first period when Jack Baker took a pass from quarterback Sal Giannone good for 22 yards and the touchdown. Don Dunlap added the extra points.

A fumble by Jackson-Milton after Salineville had kicked off resulted in the second TD for the Indians. On first down Bud Leatherberry took a pitchout from Giannone and rambled 47 yards to paydirt.

An intercepted pass set up the touchdown for the visitors. After taking over on its own 45-yard line, a long pass play moved Jackson-Milton to the Salineville 8. A 5-yard penalty followed and on the next play Bill Byers crashed across the goal.

Salineville scored three times in the second half. Dunlap scored his first of two TD's from 10 yards out to climax a 55-yard drive in the third period.

Dunlap's second touchdown came in the fourth quarter on a 25-yard gallop. Giannone capped Salineville's scoring with a neat 57-yard touchdown run late in the game.

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Bump Elliott, entering the second season as head football coach at his alma mater, Michigan, will rely strongly on a sophomore quarterback to guide the Wolverines through the rugged Big Ten campaign.

The man-sized job goes to Dave Glinka, a 6-1, 210-pounder who won all-city and all-Ohio prep honors at Toledo's Catholic Central High School.

"The quarterback is our No. 1 man in the winged T offense," says Elliott, whose season opener Sept. 24 is at home with Oregon. "Right now it is Glinka. He is a fine long and short passer, a strong runner and shows good generalship.

"Of course, when you talk about sophomores it is always about their potential. Under fire it may be different, so you have to wait and see.

"I would say that at this time we have two more sophomores, in addition to Glinka, who might work into starting calls," Elliott adds.

"Freehan is real outstanding, both on offense and defense. He is quick, can block, and knows how to catch passes. Raimey has speed but has yet to prove his potential."

Bump thinks Michigan should be stronger than last year, when he finished seventh with a 3-4 record.

"We were up and down last year—and it could be the same this time," he says.

"I think the three strongest teams are Michigan State, Illinois and Ohio State. But I also can see the conference champion losing at least two games."

"Our strongest spot is at end," Elliott analyzes. "Johnson is outstanding. He caught 20 passes last year. We also have experience in senior John Halstead, an excellent place kicker.

"Our thinnest and shakiest position is at guard. We also don't have size at the tackle spots. It could be troublesome there despite five lettermen.

"We lost all of our starting backfield. But we have some holdover reserves who saw quite a bit of action last fall and several sophomores who could fit in as the season progresses. Much of our hopes rest on quarterback Glinka at the moment."

International League Opens Playoff Tilts

By The Associated Press

Pennant-winner Toronto plays host to fourth-place Buffalo and second place Richmond meets Rochester as the International League playoffs to pick its representative for the Little World Series begin Tuesday.

The first three places in the final IL standings had been clinched earlier in the week. Buffalo nailed down the fourth spot Sunday, beating Toronto 6-1 while its closest pursuer, Jersey City, was defeated by Columbus 4-1, finishing fifth, two games behind.

In other windup action, Miami defeated Richmond 5-4 in five inning of a rain-shortened opener of a doubleheader. The second game was cancelled. Rochester edged Montreal 2-1, in 11 innings.

The semifinal playoff series is a best-of-seven affair, as is the final. The winner meets the American Association playoff winner for the minor league title.

Last year, Havana, now transplanted to Jersey City, won the IL playoffs and the series.

St. Anthony Eleven Spoils Newell's 1960 Debut, 27-13

Staley Passes For Vikings' 2 Touchdowns

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

Newell failed to come up with an adequate ground attack to go with a nifty passing game and dropped its 1960 opener to Follansbee St. Anthony, 27-13.

Coach Pete Horoszko uncovered a bright young passer in junior Mickey Staley, who was sidelined with an injury after the first game in 1959. Staley was most of Newell's offense Saturday night, passing for both TD's.

Follansbee, with a trio of speedy backs, struck three times on the ground and went to the airlanes for another touchdown.

It was the second straight victory for the Steelmen from Follansbee. They previously defeated Wellsburg.

A touchdown pass from Staley to capable receiver Ron Noland in the first period was called back because of a holding penalty. It would have been the first touchdown of the game and might have changed the complexion.

However, it was Follansbee which scored first officially with a touchdown in the second quarter. Dom Sisinni bucked over from the one-yard line midway through the period to climax a 36 - yard drive.

Nick Croce added the extra point on a run and Follansbee was in front to stay.

The Steelmen took a 14-0 lead when Sisinni again went 23 yards for the touchdown. A pass from Phil Casinelli to halfback John Julio netted the extra point.

Follansbee then moved ahead 21-0 when Casinelli, the Steelmen's quarterback, hit end Martin Gaudlo with a pass for a scoring play covering 19 yards. Julio again ran for the extra point.

Newell only passed five times in the first half, but kept the pigskin moving through the airlanes 18 times in the last half.

The Viking offense rested squarely on the shoulders of Staley, since Newell had a net of only 13 yards on the ground.

Noland, the fleet right halfback for the Vikings, snagged the first touchdown catch in the left flat from seven yards out. Dick Daugherty swept the right side for the extra point. The touchdown came on the last play of the third quarter on the end of a 72-yard march, with Staley passing to Noland and Bob Barnett all the way down field.

With four minutes gone in the fourth quarter, Follansbee capped its scoring when Croce cashed in from the two-yard line. A pass for the extra point failed.

Newell waited until the last play of the game to score its second touchdown. Alert Kip Smith, a linebacker playing his first season of football, recovered his third fumble of the game on the Newell 46.

Newell then moved to the Follansbee 30 with only seconds remaining in the game. Then Staley tossed down the middle to Bob Barnett, who grabbed the ball on the 10-yard line and sped into the end zone.

Beavers Bounce Back To Whip Springfield, 30-12

IT'S THE end of the line for halfback Charlie Tolar (44) of the Houston Oilers as he is brought down on a punt return by guard Joe Barbee (77) of the Oakland Raiders in the first half of a game Sunday at Kezar Stadium. The contest marked the AFL opener for both teams. (UPI Telephoto)

McLaughlin, Beagle Lead Beaver Attack

A 12-point deficit didn't mean a thing to a scrappy Beaver Local team which bounced from behind to topple Springfield Local, 30-12 in the opening game of the 1960 season Saturday at the Williamsport field.

In the first 10 plays from scrimmage, Springfield had two touchdowns but Coach Jack O'Rourkes charges came clawing back with 16 points in the second quarter and a pair of touchdowns in the fourth period.

Dale Beagle hit paydirt first for Beaver Local on a plunge from three yards out. He added two extra points and chopped Springfield's lead to 12-8.

Ron McLaughlin put the Beavers in front to stay when he raced 40 yards late in the second quarter. Beagle added the pair of extra points and Beaver Local took a 16-12 lead at intermission.

It was Beagle and McLaughlin accounting for all four touchdowns. McLaughlin scored his second on a 35-yard burst in the fourth quarter and Beagle followed by taking a 20-yard pass from quarterback Mike Klembara.

Jack Raugh tallied on a 50-yard pass play from his brother Don and Ron Wire went across from the two to account for Springfield's scoring.

O'Rourke praised the work of Klembara, "who did a fine job at quarterback," along with the running of Beagle and McLaughlin.

Webber, Messenger Lead Fairfield In 62-26 Rout

Coach Bruce Weber's Fairfield-Waterford team was a young bunch last season and got pushed around a good bit. Apparently the Rebels have grown up over night and are ready to do some pushing back.

The Rebels turned in a 62-26 rout over Mineral Ridge Saturday at McDonald in their first outing of the season.

Webber hit paydirt four times on runs of 80 and 90 and plunges of 2 and 4 yards. Meanwhile Messenger had a field day by scampering 40 yards for one TD and scoring two more of the short variety from inside the 10.

Slaven tallied twice for the Rebels on runs of 7 and 6 yards.

Fairfield scored once in the first period and three times in the second to take a 28-0 margin at halftime.

Girone Wins First

Salineville Takes Opener By Topping Jackson-Milton

SALINEVILLE — The coaching debut of Al Girone was a successful one as his Salineville eleven rolled to a 36-6 victory over Jackson-Milton here Saturday in the opener for both squads.

Salineville scored quickly in the first period when Jack Baker took a pass from quarterback Sal Giannone good for 22 yards and the touchdown. Don Dunlap added the extra points.

A fumble by Jackson-Milton after Salineville had kicked off resulted in the second TD for the Indians. On first down Bud Leatherberry took a pitchout from Giannone and rambled 47 yards to paydirt.

An intercepted pass set up the touchdown for the visitors. After taking over on its own 45-yard line, a long pass play moved Jackson-Milton to the Salineville 8. A 5-yard penalty followed and on the next play Bill Byers crashed across the goal.

Salineville scored three times in the second half. Dunlap scored his first of two TD's from 10 yards out to climax a 55-yard drive in the third period.

Dunlap's second touchdown came in the fourth quarter on a 25-yard gallop. Giannone capped Salineville's scoring with a neat 57-yard touchdown run late in the game.

Associated Press Sports Writer

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Bump Elliott, entering the second season as head football coach at his alma mater, Michigan, will rely strongly on a sophomore quarterback to guide the Wolverines through the rugged Big Ten campaign.

The man-sized job goes to Dave Glinka, a 6-1, 210-pounder who won all-city and all-Ohio prep honors at Toledo's Catholic Central High School.

International League Opens Playoff Tilts

By The Associated Press

Pennant-winner Toronto plays host to fourth-place Buffalo and second place Richmond meets Rochester as the International League playoffs to pick its representative for the Little World Series begin Tuesday.

The first three places in the final IL standings had been clinched earlier in the week. Buffalo nailed down the fourth spot Sunday, beating Toronto 6-1 while its closest pursuer, Jersey City, was defeated by Columbus 4-1, finishing fifth, two games behind.

In other windup action, Miami defeated Richmond 5-4 in five inning of a rain-shortened opener of a doubleheader. The second game was cancelled. Rochester edged Montreal 2-1, in 11 innings.

The semifinal playoff series is a best-of-seven affair, as is the final. The winner meets the American Association playoff winner for the minor league title.

Last year, Havana, now transplanted to Jersey City, won the IL playoffs and the series.

'Sesqui' Fete Opens

WASHINGTON COURT HOUSE, Ohio (AP)—About 75,000 people are expected to attend Fayette County's sesquicentennial celebration, honoring the county and city's 150th birthday. The eight-day affair opened Sunday. A nightly feature is "Trail Dust to Star Dust," a historical pageant running through Thursday. The celebration ends next Sunday.

Trade Ban Eyed On Red Germany

BERLIN (AP) — West Germany's cabinet may discuss today an official embargo on trade with Communist East Germany, but the chance that all trade channels will be closed seems small.

The ban would be intended to strike back at the Communists for their blows at West Berlin. They have barred West Germans from the eastern part of the city unless they get special permits. Sunday they also arrested and threw out two West German newspaper reporters.

Proposals to hit back at the Communist pocketbook come up whenever the Reds put the squeeze on this isolated city. But trade between East and West Germany has grown steadily since 1952, despite the fact that the West German Federal Republic refuses to recognize Moscow's German satellite.

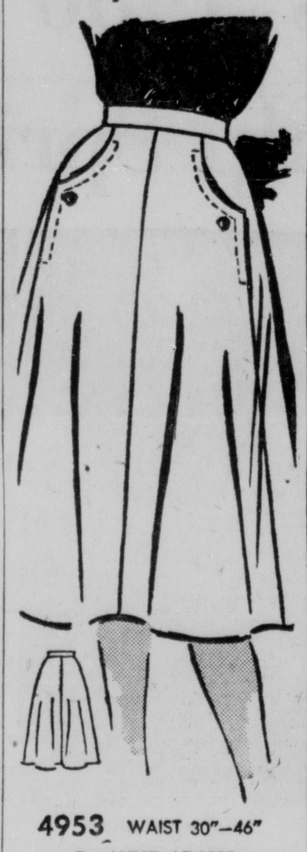

Ludwig Erhard, acting West German chancellor, has come out against any legal pressure on West German businessmen to halt trade. He says he wants a voluntary boycott. It seems unlikely he will get much of that, either.

Last year West Germany shipped a postwar record of about $257 million worth of goods to the East Germans. About a fifth of that was iron and steel, vital to the Communists' seven-year plan.

Wife Slays Husband

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Police say Mrs. Elizabeth Craig, 51, plunged a butcher knife into her husband's chest during a quarrel at their Columbus home Sunday. Leroy Craig, 33, died less than two hours later at White Cross Hospital. Police took his wife into custody. No charges were filed immediately.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I make a good adhesive for sticking cutout gold-paper letters or similar items to glass?

A. You can make a good one very easily by dissolving a few medical capsules in a small amount of warm water. Just enough water should be used to make a thick solution.

Q. How can I eliminate the nuisance of sparrows' nesting under the eaves of my house?

A. Fill small cheesecloth bags with camphor balls and hang them from the eaves. Those disgusted sparrows will set up housekeeping elsewhere.

Q. How can I easily loosen a glass stopper that has become stuck in a bottle?

A. Put a few drops of glycerin around the stopper and let stand for several hours. The glycerin works down around the stopper, and loosens it for easy removal.

Annual Report Given

The North Hancock County Red Cross Chapter's aid to families in New Cumberland hit by the spring floods highlights the annual report for 1960-61.

Squire John D. Herron, disaster chairman, said 30 families were evacuated from their homes inundated by the Ohio River and backwater from a creek, medicine was purchased for 2 persons and workers were fed.

Trucks, drivers and most of the gasoline used by the vehicles to transport furniture and household items from the areas were contributed by the owners and high school boys, Herron reported.

Two other families were given financial assistance from chapter funds in cases of one-family disasters, he added. Six children's sweaters and $143 were given for the Chilean Disaster Relief by individuals through the chapter.

Edward D. McNicol of Chester, membership and fund chairman, listed a total of $3,227.63 realized in the campaign. The remittance to the national unit totaled $1,576.56, leaving the chapter with $1,600.07 for operations during the 1960-61 year. There were 809 members enrolled.

Kenneth Evans, water safety services chairman, noted that swimming was taught at Camp Garcia but no one had sufficient training to receive a certificate.

Two senior life saving classes were taught at Tomlinson Run State Park. Swimming also was taught at the Seventh Day Adventist Camp. Issued were 18 swimmer certificates, 5 intermediates, 4 swimmers, one junior and one senior life saving.

Alvin Arner Jr., first aid chairman, said two classes in first aid were taught — one junior and one standard. Twelve junior certificates were issued and 26 standard certificates. A film on mouth-to-mouth resuscitation provided by the East Liverpool chapter was screened several times. Books on safety were distributed.

In home service, Miss Martha Troop, chairman, said 121 individual families were given service one or more times in the fiscal year. Twenty-eight were veterans and 24 civilians. Many were assisted in obtaining various government benefits, given financial assistance and counseled.

In volunteer services, 21 Gray Ladies were recruited. They were trained by the East Liverpool chapter and at City Hospital and have given 695 hours service in addition to 210 hours required for training. Mrs. Francis Stephens was chairman and co-chairmen were Mrs. J. A. Bower and Mrs. Paul McHenry.

More than 100 volunteers including committee members assisted with the campaign for members and funds and many unlisted volunteers assisted in disaster service. The ratio of the chapter is at least 200 volunteers to every part-time paid worker, the report emphasized. There are 160 listed volunteers.

The report also noted miscellaneous contributions including 75 items loaned from the sick equipment room, and purchase of a wheelchair.

On four occasions, the chapter aided in obtaining rare types of blood for emergencies. The chapter headquarters is used by Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, 4-H Clubs and other groups as a meeting site.

Mrs. Ruth Sprouse, executive secretary, said the new owner of the Aaron Building — the Miller Drilling Co. — is continuing a practice of giving the chapter free office space. The chapter's annual meeting will be held Oct. 20 in the Newell headquarters.

'Sesqui' Fete Opens

WASHINGTON COURT HOUSE, Ohio (AP)—About 75,000 people are expected to attend Fayette County's sesquicentennial celebration, honoring the county and city's 150th birthday. The eight-day affair opened Sunday. A nightly feature is "Trail Dust to Star Dust," a historical pageant running through Thursday. The celebration ends next Sunday.

Trade Ban Eyed On Red Germany

BERLIN (AP) — West Germany's cabinet may discuss today an official embargo on trade with Communist East Germany, but the chance that all trade channels will be closed seems small.

The ban would be intended to strike back at the Communists for their blows at West Berlin. They have barred West Germans from the eastern part of the city unless they get special permits. Sunday they also arrested and threw out two West German newspaper reporters.

Proposals to hit back at the Communist pocketbook come up whenever the Reds put the squeeze on this isolated city. But trade between East and West Germany has grown steadily since 1952, despite the fact that the West German Federal Republic refuses to recognize Moscow's German satellite.

Ludwig Erhard, acting West German chancellor, has come out against any legal pressure on West German businessmen to halt trade. He says he wants a voluntary boycott. It seems unlikely he will get much of that, either.

Last year West Germany shipped a postwar record of about $257 million worth of goods to the East Germans. About a fifth of that was iron and steel, vital to the Communists' seven-year plan.

Wife Slays Husband

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I make a good adhesive for sticking cutout gold-paper letters or similar items to glass?

A. You can make a good one very easily by dissolving a few medical capsules in a small amount of warm water. Just enough water should be used to make a thick solution.

Q. How can I eliminate the nuisance of sparrows' nesting under the eaves of my house?

A. Fill small cheesecloth bags with camphor balls and hang them from the eaves. Those disgusted sparrows will set up housekeeping elsewhere.

Q. How can I easily loosen a glass stopper that has become stuck in a bottle?

A. Put a few drops of glycerin around the stopper and let stand for several hours. The glycerin works down around the stopper, and loosens it for easy removal.

Annual Report Given

The North Hancock County Red Cross Chapter's aid to families in New Cumberland hit by the spring floods highlights the annual report for 1960-61.

Squire John D. Herron, disaster chairman, said 30 families were evacuated from their homes inundated by the Ohio River and backwater from a creek, medicine was purchased for 2 persons and workers were fed.

Trucks, drivers and most of the gasoline used by the vehicles to transport furniture and household items from the areas were contributed by the owners and high school boys, Herron reported.

Two other families were given financial assistance from chapter funds in cases of one-family disasters, he added. Six children's sweaters and $143 were given for the Chilean Disaster Relief by individuals through the chapter.

Edward D. McNicol of Chester, membership and fund chairman, listed a total of $3,227.63 realized in the campaign. The remittance to the national unit totaled $1,576.56, leaving the chapter with $1,600.07 for operations during the 1960-61 year. There were 809 members enrolled.

Kenneth Evans, water safety services chairman, noted that swimming was taught at Camp Garcia but no one had sufficient training to receive a certificate.

Two senior life saving classes were taught at Tomlinson Run State Park. Swimming also was taught at the Seventh Day Adventist Camp. Issued were 18 swimmer certificates, 5 intermediates, 4 swimmers, one junior and one senior life saving.

Alvin Arner Jr., first aid chairman, said two classes in first aid were taught — one junior and one standard. Twelve junior certificates were issued and 26 standard certificates. A film on mouth-to-mouth resuscitation provided by the East Liverpool chapter was screened several times. Books on safety were distributed.

In home service, Miss Martha Troop, chairman, said 121 individual families were given service one or more times in the fiscal year. Twenty-eight were veterans and 24 civilians. Many were assisted in obtaining various government benefits, given financial assistance and counseled.

In volunteer services, 21 Gray Ladies were recruited. They were trained by the East Liverpool chapter and at City Hospital and have given 695 hours service in addition to 210 hours required for training. Mrs. Francis Stephens was chairman and co-chairmen were Mrs. J. A. Bower and Mrs. Paul McHenry.

More than 100 volunteers including committee members assisted with the campaign for members and funds and many unlisted volunteers assisted in disaster service. The ratio of the chapter is at least 200 volunteers to every part-time paid worker, the report emphasized. There are 160 listed volunteers.

The report also noted miscellaneous contributions including 75 items loaned from the sick equipment room, and purchase of a wheelchair.

On four occasions, the chapter aided in obtaining rare types of blood for emergencies. The chapter headquarters is used by Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, 4-H Clubs and other groups as a meeting site.

Mrs. Ruth Sprouse, executive secretary, said the new owner of the Aaron Building — the Miller Drilling Co. — is continuing a practice of giving the chapter free office space. The chapter's annual meeting will be held Oct. 20 in the Newell headquarters.

Kennedy Due Before Texas Pastor Group

In an appearance before the Houston Ministerial Association tonight, the Democratic presidential nominee grapples with the religious issue one that some Democratic leaders believe is endangering his chances of winning Texas' important 24 electoral votes.

How seriously this may affect the outcome in a state that President Eisenhower carried in the last two elections was outlined by Johnson who told a reporter: "Religion is the only issue the Republicans have in Texas. It's bad but we don't think it will prevail."

Johnson, the Senate Democratic leader, said recent statewide polls have shown Kennedy ahead of Vice President Richard M. Nixon, his Republican opponent. But Johnson said at least 12 per cent of the voters were listed as undecided.

Kennedy refused to let himself get fenced in with a suggestion from Nixon that both candidates agree on a cut-off date after which neither would discuss the religious issue.

It was the view of the Democratic nominee's associates that Nixon, a Quaker, could well afford to say he will not discuss religion, since he is not under fire on the score.

But they said Kennedy could hardly say he will not answer attacks made on him as a Catholic. They particularly fear scurrilous charges may be leveled against him in the final hours before the voters go to the polls on Nov. 8.

Nixon told a national television audience — NBC — "Meet the Press" — Sunday night he has no doubts whatever about Kennedy's loyalty to the country or that he will put the Constitution above any other standard if he is elected president.

The vice president said it would be "tragic for this election to be determined primarily or even substantially on religious grounds." Kennedy obviously agreed with this.

In a carefully worded statement in reply to Nixon, Kennedy said: "I wish we could cut off debate on this subject right now. I think we'd all be better off. How can we possibly improve on the Constitution?"

Kennedy has noted frequently that the constitution provides there shall be no religious test for holding office.

Nixon Starts Drive; Curbs Church Issue

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon, vowing his best efforts to keep the religious issue out of the presidential race, opens his official campaign today with a major airport rally.

The sendoff comes at Friendship Airport near Baltimore where President Eisenhower, vice-presidential candidate Henry Cabot Lodge and other Republican leaders meet to cheer Nixon on his way. He takes off in a jet plane on a trip that will lead him through 14 states in six days.

The vow came on television Sunday night as the Republican candidate called for a cutoff date on the discussion of religion.

"I would hope that Sen. Kennedy would reach the same conclusion," Nixon said on the NBC television program (Meet the Press), "because if the two candidates refrain from raising the issue, refrain from discussing it, that means that at least to that extent it won't be in the news."

In San Diego, Calif., Sen. John F. Kennedy, the Democratic candidate, quickly agreed.

"I wish we could cut off debate on this subject," said Kennedy, whose Roman Catholic faith has become an issue. "I think we'd all be better off."

Nixon's session on television was his first public appearance since leaving Walter Reed Army Hospital. He spent 11 days there for treatment of a knee infection, delaying the start of his campaign.

"I have issued orders to all of the people in my campaign not to discuss religion, not to raise it, not to allow anybody to participate in the campaign who does so on that ground," Nixon said, "and as far as I am concerned, I will decline to discuss religion and will discuss other issues in order to keep the minds of the people on the issues that should decide this election and to keep them off an issue that should not enter into it."

Nixon, however, recognized the difficulty of keeping religion out of the campaign because "every time the candidate raises the issue or talks about it, even as I answer a question, it is news, and the people think about that."

Church Men Hit Religious Hatred

The group called on their organizations to oppose any attempts to make religious affiliation the basis of voter's choice in the presidential campaign.

They called their statement, made Sunday, "an attempt to extract a higher ethic regarding religion and politics that would be applicable to the practical considerations of the current presidential campaign."

Last week, a Protestant group led by Dr. Norman Vincent Peale issued a statement which said a Roman Catholic president would be "under extreme pressure by the hierarchy of his church."

Dr. Peale, a supporter of Republican presidential nominee Richard M. Nixon, said later, however, that the public agitation of religion as an issue in the campaign would be "in the long run harmful to our country."

The Sunday statement's signers included the Rt. Rev. Arthur Lichtenberger, presiding bishop, Protestant Episcopal Church; Methodist bishops G. Bromley Oxnam of Scarsdale, N.Y., William C. Martin of Dallas, Tex., and Lloyd C. Wicke of New York; Archbishop Iakovos of the Greek Orthodox Church; Richard Cardinal Cushing, Roman Catholic archbishop of Boston; Reinhold Neibuhr of Union Theological Seminary, New York; Rabbi William F. Rosenblum, former president of the Synagogue Council of America.

Merical Pleads Guilty On Charge Of Assault

As trials started today in Beaver County Court on recent Grand Jury indictments, Thomas Charles Merical of Brighton Township entered a plea of guilty to a rape charge.

The charge was filed by his wife for assault on his 16-year-old stepdaughter. He gave himself up in East Liverpool Aug. 15 after eluding police five days. He was indicted by the Grand Jury, which met the week of Aug. 29.

The selection of a jury was begun this morning in the murder trial of Jobie Lee Lewis of Aliquippa. He allegedly hit Robert L. Sligh, 28, of Aliquippa on the head with a baseball bat during an argument. Sligh died later. Trials were also started for Edison Snyder of Negley on charges of subornation of perjury and Leamon Black of East Palestine for perjury.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I am 16 and have a terrible problem—clammy hands. When I am out with a fellow my palms are always moist with perspiration. I try to wear gloves but during the summer it's not convenient.

When I'm in a movie with a fellow and he wants to hold hands I am very embarrassed. Can you suggest a solution? — DAMPENED SPIRITS.

Dear Damp: The more you think about your clammy hands the clammier they will be. Moist palms are usually a manifestation of nervousness.

Keep several handkerchiefs in your purse and carry one when you feel ill at ease.

Family Affair

Dear Ann: My father owns a large business which was started by my grandfather. I entered the firm when I was graduated from college last year.

I like the business and could do well at it but my old man drives me nuts. He's an aggressive, high-powered guy and thinks I ought to be just like him.

I've thought of just walking out but it would be foolish. There's a beautiful living here and I'm the sole heir. I feel that the older employes resent me because my dad is pushing me too fast.

I'm engaged to a lovely girl who is urging me to leave. She says it's not worth it. She has great confidence in my ability and says I can be a success any place. What's your advice? — THIRD GENERATION.

Dear Third: If you like the business, stay in it — but separate from your father for the time being.

Go to another city and get a job in the same type of business. You'll learn things your dad could not teach you and you will bring to the new job much that you learned at papa's knee.

After a few years of experience away from your father, re-evaluate the home situation. By then your dad should have more confidence in you and — even more important — you'll have more confidence in yourself.

Faults Add Up

Dear Ann: I'm dating an interesting and attractive man who is 27 years old. The only fault I can find to criticize is that he drinks a little too much. He promised to cut down if I marry him.

My dad never liked the fellow but wouldn't say why. Yesterday we all went on a family outing and when we got home I asked Dad to tell me specifically why he didn't like Harry.

He replied: "Because (1) he chews his fingernails, (2) cracks his knuckles, (3) stutters and (4) doesn't look me in the eye when he talks to me."

Do these things mean anything, Ann? — SALLY.

Dear Sally: All the things your father mentioned are symptoms of insecurity. Add these tell-tale habits to your own concern that he "drinks a little too much" and you have a picture that could stand a second (and third) look before considering marriage.

Confidentially

To FINANCIALLY EMBARRASSED: When they needed money they were blunt. Don't be foolish. There's no reason to make them a gift of the loan.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Seminar Set For New Law

CLEVELAND — Whether a "new era" in the internal operations of unions and in labor - management relationships has been developing because of the Landrum-Griffin Act may be learned in a seminar to be held Wednesday at the Hotel Sheraton here.

An all-day program on the Labor-Management Reporting and Disclosure Act is being sponsored by the Cleveland chapter of the Federal Bar Association, according to its president, Frank B. Moore, in cooperation with the Department of Labor.

The program also will commemorate the first anniversary of the passage of the controversial Landrum-Griffin Act.

John L. Holcombe, commissioner of the Department of Labor's new Bureau of Labor - Management Reports, will be the principal speaker at the luncheon. The title of his address will be "The First Year." Harold C. Nystrom, the chief legal officer of the department, will open the morning session.

Four short blasts of a locomotive whistle is the standard railroad alarm for persons or livestock on the tracks. Four longer blasts signal a train's approach at a station or crossing.

Due At United Nations

Mr. K To Be Accompanied By Heads Of 6 Red Nations

WASHINGTON (AP)—When Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev arrives next week to lead the Soviet Union's delegation to the United Nations, there will be a strange six-man group in his retinue.

The six European satellite members of the world organization are sending their undisputed leaders to the session. They are Poland's Wladyslaw Gomulka, Hungary's Janos Kadar, Romania's Gheorghe Gheorghiu - Dej, Czechoslovakia's Antonin Novotny, Bulgaria's Todor Zhivkov, and Albania's Mahmet Shehu.

All of them except Shehu are first secretaries of their respective parties, the highest rank a man can reach in the Communist hierarchy. Shehu is Albania's prime minister. Novotny, beside being the party boss, also is Czechoslovakia's president.

Khrushchev made it clear some time ago that he wanted amass summit meeting at the U.N. headquarters. The free world's leaders generally ignored his overtures, but a growing list of top officials from other countries is planning to attend.

From among the six men Poland's Gomulka and Hungary's Kadar are the best known.

Gomulka, now 55, is the only one of the six who maintains some limited independence from Moscow. The former oil field mechanic, professional agitator and anti-Nazi resistance leader spent many years in prison both before and after the war. During the great purges of the late 1940s he was labeled a deviationist and was arrested in 1951, but his comrades never tried him. The historic autumn of 1956 returned Gomulka to power and he immediately established a separate course for Poland's Communists, despite Khrushchev's personal frantic efforts to keep him in line.

Kadar, 48, a former factory worker, was a second-string underground Communist leader during Hungary's Nazi occupation. When the Communists took over he became interior minister, but then was arrested himself by the Stalinist dictator Matyas Rakosi and tortured by the same secret police he helped to create.

Karadar's comeback was in connection with the October 1956 revolution, during which he became first secretary of Hungarian Communists, while Imre Nagy headed the revolutionary government. The circumstances why and how Kadar betrayed Nagy and the revolution are still obscure. Nagy was executed two years later and Kadar now is the leading Communist of his country.

Czechoslovakia's Novotny, 56, Romania's Gheorghiu-Dej, 59, and Bulgaria's Zhivkov, 49, escaped the purges and the Communist arrests. Novotny was once a metal worker, Gheorghiu-Dej a top-ranking trade union official, and Zhivkov a printer before climbing to the top in their respective countries. Novotny is the only one who can boast of having spent a long term in a Nazi prison and later in the Mauthausen extermination camp.

Albania's Shehu, at 42 the youngest of the group, differs from the others in many respects. of his tiny country on the Adriatic. Next he is the son of a Firstly, he is only prime minister Moslem priest, and lastly he was not a worker, but a professional army officer trained in an Italian army school before the war and in Moscow's Military Academy after. A man who fought with the Loyalists in the Spanish civi war, he is known to be a firm adversary of Yugoslavia's Marshal Tito.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I am 16 and have a terrible problem—clammy hands. When I am out with a fellow my palms are always moist with perspiration. I try to wear gloves but during the summer it's not convenient.

When I'm in a movie with a fellow and he wants to hold hands I am very embarrassed. Can you suggest a solution? — DAMPENED SPIRITS.

Dear Damp: The more you think about your clammy hands the clammier they will be. Moist palms are usually a manifestation of nervousness.

Keep several handkerchiefs in your purse and carry one when you feel ill at ease.

Family Affair

Dear Ann: My father owns a large business which was started by my grandfather. I entered the firm when I was graduated from college last year.

I like the business and could do well at it but my old man drives me nuts. He's an aggressive, high-powered guy and thinks I ought to be just like him.

I've thought of just walking out but it would be foolish. There's a beautiful living here and I'm the sole heir. I feel that the older employes resent me because my dad is pushing me too fast.

I'm engaged to a lovely girl who is urging me to leave. She says it's not worth it. She has great confidence in my ability and says I can be a success any place. What's your advice? — THIRD GENERATION.

Dear Third: If you like the business, stay in it — but separate from your father for the time being.

Go to another city and get a job in the same type of business. You'll learn things your dad could not teach you and you will bring to the new job much that you learned at papa's knee.

After a few years of experience away from your father, re-evaluate the home situation. By then your dad should have more confidence in you and — even more important — you'll have more confidence in yourself.

Faults Add Up

Dear Ann: I'm dating an interesting and attractive man who is 27 years old. The only fault I can find to criticize is that he drinks a little too much. He promised to cut down if I marry him.

My dad never liked the fellow but wouldn't say why. Yesterday we all went on a family outing and when we got home I asked Dad to tell me specifically why he didn't like Harry.

Do these things mean anything, Ann? — SALLY.

Dear Sally: All the things your father mentioned are symptoms of insecurity. Add these tell-tale habits to your own concern that he "drinks a little too much" and you have a picture that could stand a second (and third) look before considering marriage.

Confidentially

To FINANCIALLY EMBARRASSED: When they needed money they were blunt. Don't be foolish. There's no reason to make them a gift of the loan.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Seminar Set For New Law

CLEVELAND — Whether a "new era" in the internal operations of unions and in labor - management relationships has been developing because of the Landrum-Griffin Act may be learned in a seminar to be held Wednesday at the Hotel Sheraton here.

An all-day program on the Labor-Management Reporting and Disclosure Act is being sponsored by the Cleveland chapter of the Federal Bar Association, according to its president, Frank B. Moore, in cooperation with the Department of Labor.

The program also will commemorate the first anniversary of the passage of the controversial Landrum-Griffin Act.

John L. Holcombe, commissioner of the Department of Labor's new Bureau of Labor - Management Reports, will be the principal speaker at the luncheon. The title of his address will be "The First Year." Harold C. Nystrom, the chief legal officer of the department, will open the morning session.

Four short blasts of a locomotive whistle is the standard railroad alarm for persons or livestock on the tracks. Four longer blasts signal a train's approach at a station or crossing.
